MARTIN RELPH.

- My grandfather says he remembers he saw, when a youngster long ago,
- On a bright May day, a strange old man, with a beard as white as snow,
- Stand on the hill outside our town like a monument of woe, And, striking his bare bald head the while, sob out the reason—so!
- If I last as long as Methuselah I shall never forgive myself:
- But—God forgive me, that I pray, unhappy Martin Relph,

- As coward, coward I call him—him, yes, him! Away from me!
- Get you behind the man I am now, you man that I used to be!
- What can have sewed my mouth up, set me a-stare, all eyes, no tongue?
- People have urged "You visit a scare too hard on a lad so young!
- You were taken aback, poor boy," they urge, "no time to regain your wits:
- Besides it had maybe cost you life." Ay, there is the cap which fits!
- So, cap me, the coward,—thus! No fear! A cuff on the brow does good:
- The feel of it hinders a worm inside which bores at the brain for food.
- See now, there certainly seems excuse: for a moment, I trust, dear friends,
- The fault was but folly, no fault of mine, or if mine, I have made amends!
- For, every day that is first of May, on the hill-top, here stand I,

- Martin Relph, and I strike my brow, and publish the reason why,
- When there gathers a crowd to mock the fool. No fool, friends, since the bite
- Of a worm inside is worse to bear: pray God I have baulked him quite!
- I'll tell you. Certainly much excuse! It came of the way they cooped
- Us peasantry up in a ring just here, close huddling because tight-hooped
- By the red-coats round us villagers all: they meant we should see the sight
- And take the example,—see, not speak, for speech was the Captain's right.
- "You clowns on the slope, beware!" cried he: "This woman about to die
- Gives by her fate fair warning to such acquaintance as play the spy.
- Henceforth who meddle with matters of state above them perhaps will learn
- That peasants should stick to their plough-tail, leave to the King the King's concern.

- "Here's a quarrel that sets the land on fire, between King George and his foes:
- What call has a man of your kind—much less, a woman—to interpose?
- Yet you needs must be meddling, folk like you, not foes—so much the worse!
- The many and loyal should keep themselves unmixed with the few perverse.
- "Is the counsel hard to follow? I gave it you plainly a month ago,
- And where was the good? The rebels have learned just all that they need to know.
- Not a month since in we quietly marched: a week, and they had the news,
- From a list complete of our rank and file to a note of our caps and shoes.
- "All about all we did and all we were doing and like to do!
- Only, I catch a letter by luck, and capture who wrote it, too.
- Some of you men look black enough, but the milk-white face demure
- Betokens the finger foul with ink: 't is a woman who writes, be sure!

- "Is it 'Dearie, how much I miss your mouth!'—good natural stuff, she pens?
- Some sprinkle of that, for a blind, of course: with talk about cocks and hens,
- How 'robin has built on the apple-tree, and our creeper which came to grief
- Through the frost, we feared, is twining afresh round casement in famous leaf.'
- "But all for a blind! She soon glides frank into 'Horrid the place is grown
- With Officers here and Privates there, no nook we may call our own:
- And Farmer Giles has a tribe to house, and lodging will be to seek
- For the second Company sure to come ('t is whispered) on Monday week.'
- "And so to the end of the chapter! There! The murder, you see, was out:
- Easy to guess how the change of mind in the rebels was brought about!
- Safe in the trap would they now lie snug, had treachery made no sign:
- But treachery meets a just reward, no matter if fools malign!

- "That traitors had played us false, was proved—sent news which fell so pat:
- And the murder was out—this letter of love, the sender of this sent that!
- 'T is an ugly job, though, all the same—a hateful, to have to deal
- With a case of the kind, when a woman's in fault: we soldiers need nerves of steel!
- "So, I gave her a chance, despatched post-haste a message to Vincent Parkes
- Whom she wrote to; easy to find he was, since one of the King's own clerks,
- Ay, kept by the King's own gold in the town close by where the rebels camp:
- A sort of a lawyer, just the man to betray our sort—the scamp!
- "' If her writing is simple and honest and only the loverlike stuff it looks,
- And if you yourself are a loyalist, nor down in the rebels' books,
- Come quick,' said I, 'and in person prove you are each of you clear of crime,
- Or martial law must take its course: this day next week's the time!'

- "Next week is now: does he come? Not he! Clean gone, our clerk, in a trice!
- He has left his sweetheart here in the lurch: no need of a warning twice!
- His own neck free, but his partner's fast in the noose still, here she stands
- To pay for her fault. 'T is an ugly job: but soldiers obey commands.
- "And hearken wherefore I make a speech! Should any acquaintance share
- The folly that led to the fault that is now to be punished, let fools beware!
- Look black, if you please, but keep hands white: and, above all else, keep wives—
- Or sweethearts or what they may be—from ink! Not a word now, on your lives!"
- Black? but the Pit's own pitch was white to the Captain's face—the brute
- With the bloated cheeks and the bulgy nose and the bloodshot eyes to suit!
- He was muddled with wine, they say: more like, he was out of his wits with fear;
- He had but a handful of men, that 's true,—a riot might cost him dear.

- And all that time stood Rosamund Page, with pinioned arms and face
- Bandaged about, on the turf marked out for the party's firing-place.
- I hope she was wholly with God: I hope 't was His angel stretched a hand
- To steady her so, like the shape of stone you see in our church-aisle stand.
- I hope there was no vain fancy pierced the bandage to vex her eyes,
- No face within which she missed without, no questions and no replies—
- "Why did you leave me to die?"—"Because . . ." Oh, fiends, too soon you grin
- At merely a moment of hell, like that—such heaven as hell ended in!
- Let mine end too! He gave the word, up went the guns in a line.
- Those heaped on the hill were blind as dumb,—for, of all eyes, only mine
- Looked over the heads of the foremost rank. Some fell on their knees in prayer,
- Some sank to the earth, but all shut eyes, with a sole exception there.

- That was myself, who had stolen up last, had sidled behind the group:
- I am highest of all on the hill-top, there stand fixed while the others stoop!
- From head to foot in a serpent's twine am I tightened:

 I touch ground?
- No more than a gibbet's rigid corpse which the fetters rust around!
- Can I speak, can I breathe, can I burst—aught else but see, see, only see?
- And see I do—for there comes in sight—a man, it sure must be !—
- Who staggeringly, stumblingly rises, falls, rises, at random flings his weight
- On and on, anyhow onward—a man that's mad he arrives too late!
- Else why does he wave a something white high-flourished above his head?
- Why does not he call, cry,—curse the fool!—why throw up his arms instead?
- O take this fist in your own face, fool! Why does not yourself shout "Stay!
- Here 's a man comes rushing, might and main, with something he 's mad to say "?

- And a minute, only a moment, to have hell-fire boil up in your brain,
- And ere you can judge things right, choose heaven,—time's over, repentance vain!
- They level: a volley, a smoke and the clearing of smoke: I see no more
- Of the man smoke hid, nor his frantic arms, nor the something white he bore.
- But stretched on the field, some half-mile off, is an object. Surely dumb,
- Deaf, blind were we struck, that nobody heard, not one of us saw him come!
- Has he fainted through fright? One may well believe!

 What is it he holds so fast?
- Turn him over, examine the face! Heyday! What, Vincent Parkes at last?
- Dead! dead as she, by the self-same shot: one bullet has ended both,
- Her in the body and him in the soul. They laugh at our plighted troth.
- "Till death us do part?" Till death us do join past parting—that sounds like
- Betrothal indeed! O Vincent Parkes, what need has my fist to strike?

- I helped you: thus were you dead and wed: one bound, and your soul reached hers!
- There is clenched in your hand the thing, signed, sealed, the paper which plain avers
- She is innocent, innocent, plain as print, with the King's Arms broad engraved:
- No one can hear, but if anyone high on the hill can see, she's saved!
- And torn his garb and bloody his lips with heart-break plain it grew
- How the week's delay had been brought about: each guess at the end proved true.
- It was hard to get at the folk in power: such waste of time! and then
- Such pleading and praying, with, all the while, his lamb in the lions' den!
- And at length when he wrung their pardon out, no end to the stupid forms—
- The licence and leave: I make no doubt—what wonder if passion warms
- The pulse in a man if you play with his heart?—he was something hasty in speech;
- Anyhow, none would quicken the work: he had to beseech, beseech!

- And the thing once signed, sealed, safe in his grasp, what followed but fresh delays?
- For the floods were out, he was forced to take such a roundabout of ways!
- And 't was "Halt there!" at every turn of the road, since he had to cross the thick
- Of the red-coats: what did they care for him and his "Quick, for God's sake, quick!"
- Horse? but he had one: had it how long? till the first knave smirked "You brag
- Yourself a friend of the King's? then lend to a King's friend here your nag!"
- Money to buy another? Why, piece by piece they plundered him still,
- With their "Wait you must,—no help: if aught can help you, a guinea will!"
- And a borough there was—I forget the name—whose Mayor must have the bench
- Of Justices ranged to clear a doubt: for "Vincent," thinks he, sounds French!
- It well may have driven him daft, God knows! all man can certainly know
- Is—rushing and falling and rising, at last he arrived in a horror—so!

- When a word, cry, gasp, would have rescued both! Ay bite me! The worm begins
- At his work once more. Had cowardice proved—that only—my sin of sins!
- Friends, look you here! Suppose . . . suppose . . . But mad I am, needs must be!
- Judas the Damned would never have dared such a sin as I dream! For, see!
- Suppose I had sneakingly loved her myself, my wretched self, and dreamed
- In the heart of me "She were better dead than happy and his!"—while gleamed
- A light from hell as I spied the pair in a perfectest embrace,
- He the saviour and she the saved,—bliss born of the very murder-place!
- No! Say I was scared, friends! Call me fool and coward, but nothing worse!
- Jeer at the fool and gibe at the coward! 'T was ever the coward's curse
- That fear breeds fancies in such: such take their shadow for substance still,
- —A fiend at their back. I liked poor Parkes,—loved Vincent, if you will!

- And her—why, I said "Good morrow" to her, "Good even," and nothing more:
- The neighbourly way! She was just to me as fifty had been before.
- So, coward it is and coward shall be! There's a friend, now! Thanks! A drink
- Of water I wanted: and now I can walk, get home by myself, I think.

PHEIDIPPIDES.

Χαίρετε, νικώμεν.

FIRST I salute this soil of the blessed, river and rock!
Gods of my birthplace, dæmons and heroes, honour to all!

Then I name thee, claim thee for our patron, co-equal in praise

- —Ay, with Zeus the Defender, with Her of the ægis and spear!
- Also, ye of the bow and the buskin, praised be your peer,
- Now, henceforth and forever,—O latest to whom I upraise
- Hand and heart and voice! For Athens, leave pasture and flock!
- Present to help, potent to save, Pan-patron I call!

Archons of Athens, topped by the tettix, see, I return! See, 't is myself here standing alive, no spectre that speaks!

xv. C

- Crowned with the myrtle, did you command me, Athe and you,
- "Run, Pheidippides, run and race, reach Sparta for aid Persia has come, we are here, where is She?" You command I obeyed,
- Ran and raced: like stubble, some field which a fire run through,
- Was the space between city and city: two days, two nights did I burn
- Over the hills, under the dales, down pits and up peaks.
- Into their midst I broke: breath served but for "Persia has come!
- Persia bids Athens proffer slaves'-tribute, water and earth;
- Razed to the ground is Eretria—but Athens, shall Athens sink.
- Drop into dust and die—the flower of Hellas utterly die Die, with the wide world spitting at Sparta, the stupid the stander-by?
- Answer me quick, what help, what hand do you stretcl o'er destruction's brink?
- How,—when? No care for my limbs!—there 's lightnin in all and some—
- Fresh and fit your message to bear, once lips give i birth!"

- Full-circle her state in the sky!' Already she rounds to it fast:
- Athens must wait, patient as we-who judgment suspend."
- Athens,—except for that sparkle,—thy name, I had mouldered to ash!
- That sent a blaze through my blood; off, off and away was I back,
- —Not one word to waste, one look to lose on the false.
 and the vile!
- Yet "O Gods of my land!" I cried, as each hillock and plain,
- Wood and stream, I knew, I named, rushing past them again,
- "Have ye kept faith, proved mindful of honours we paid you erewhile?
- Vain was the filleted victim, the fulsome libation! Too-rash
- Love in its choice, paid you so largely service so slack!
- "Oak and olive and bay,—I bid you cease to enwreathe Brows made bold by your leaf! Fade at the Persian's foot,
- You that, our patrons were pledged, should never adorn a slave!

- Rather I hail thee, Parnes,—trust to thy wild waste tract!
- Treeless, herbless, lifeless mountain! What matter if slacked
- My speed may hardly be, for homage to crag and to cave No deity deigns to drape with verdure? at least I can breathe,
- Fear in thee no fraud from the blind, no lie from the mute!"
- Such my cry as, rapid, I ran over Parnes' ridge;
- Gully and gap I clambered and cleared till, sudden, a bar
- Jutted, a stoppage of stone against me, blocking the way.
- Right! for I minded the hollow to traverse, the fissure across:
- "Where I could enter, there I depart by! Night in the fosse?
- Out of the day dive, into the day as bravely arise! No bridge
- Better!"—when—ha! what was it I came on, of wonders that are?
- There, in the cool of a cleft, sat he-majestical Pan!
- Ivy drooped wanton, kissed his head, moss cushioned his hoof:

- All the great God was good in the eyes grave-kindly—the curl
- Carved on the bearded cheek, amused at a mortal's awe, As, under the human trunk, the goat-thighs grand I saw.
- "Halt, Pheidippides!"—halt I did, my brain of a whirl:
- "Hither to me! Why pale in my presence?" he gracious began:
- "How is it,—Athens, only in Hellas, holds me aloof?
- "Athens, she only, rears me no fane, makes me no feast! Wherefore? Than I what godship to Athens more helpful of old?
- Ay, and still, and forever her friend! Test Pan, trust me! Go, bid Athens take heart, laugh Persia to scorn, have faith
- In the temples and tombs! Go, say to Athens, 'The Goat-God saith:
- When Persia—so much as strews not the soil—is cast in the sea,
- Then praise Pan who fought in the ranks with your most and least,
- Goat-thigh to greaved-thigh, made one cause with the free and the bold!'
- "Say Pan saith: 'Let this, foreshowing the place, be the pledge!'"

- Gay, the liberal hand held out this herbage I bear
- -Fennel—I grasped it a-tremble with dew—whatever it bode)
- "While, as for thee . . . " But enough! He was gone. If I ran hitherto—
- Be sure that, the rest of my journey, I ran no longer, but flew.
- Parnes to Athens-earth no more, the air was my road:
- Here am I back. Praise Pan, we stand no more on the razor's edge!
- Pan for Athens, Pan for me! I too have a guerdon rare!
- Then spoke Miltiades. "And thee, best runner of Greece,
- Whose limbs did duty indeed,—what gift is promised thyself?
- Tell it us straightway,—Athens the mother demands of her son!"
- Rosily blushed the youth: he paused: but, lifting at length
- His eyes from the ground, it seemed as he gathered the rest of his strength
- Into the utterance—"Pan spoke thus: 'For what thou hast done

- Count on a worthy reward! Henceforth be allowed thee release
- From the racer's toil, no vulgar reward in praise or in pelf!'
- "I am bold to believe, Pan means reward the most to my mind!
- Fight I shall, with our foremost, wherever this fennel may grow,—
- Pound—Pan helping us—Persia to dust, and, under the deep,
- Whelm her away for ever; and then,—no Athens to save,—
- Marry a certain maid, I know keeps faith to the brave,— Hie to my house and home: and, when my children shall creep
- Close to my knees,—recount how the God was awful yet kind,
- Promised their sire reward to the full—rewarding him —so!"
- Unforeseeing one! Yes, he fought on the Marathon day:
- So, when Persia was dust, all cried "To Akropolis! Run, Pheidippides, one race more! the meed is thy due!

- 'Athens is saved, thank Pan,' go shout!" He flung down his shield,
- Ran like fire once more: and the space 'twixt the Fennel-field
- And Athens was stubble again, a field which a fire runs through,
- Till in he broke: "Rejoice, we conquer!" Like wine through clay,
- Joy in his blood bursting his heart, he died-the bliss!
- So, to this day, when friend meets friend, the word of salute
- Is still "Rejoice!"—his word which brought rejoicing indeed.
- So is Pheidippides happy for ever,—the noble strong man
- Who could race like a God, bear the face of a God, whom a God loved so well;
- He saw the land saved he had helped to save, and was suffered to tell
- Such tidings, yet never decline, but, gloriously as he began,
- So to end gloriously—once to shout, thereafter be mute:
- "Athens is saved!"—Pheidippides dies in the shout for his meed.

HALBERT AND HOB.

- HERE is a thing that happened. Like wild beasts whelped, for den,
- In a wild part of North England, there lived once two wild men
- Inhabiting one homestead, neither a hovel nor hut,
- Time out of mind their birthright: father and son, these —but—
- Such a son, such a father! Most wildness by degrees
 Softens away: yet, last of their line, the wildest and worst were these.
- Criminals, then? Why, no: they did not murder and rob;
- But, give them a word, they returned a blow—old Halbert as young Hob:
- Harsh and fierce of word, rough and savage of deed,
- Hated or feared the more—who knows?—the genuine wild-beast breed.

- Thus were they found by the few sparse folk of the country-side;
- But how fared each with other? E'en beasts couch, hide by hide,
- In a growling, grudged agreement: so, father and son aye curled
- The closelier up in their den because the last of their kind in the world.
- Still, beast irks beast on occasion. One Christmas night of snow,
- Came father and son to words—such words! more cruel because the blow
- To crown each word was wanting, while taunt matched gibe, and curse
- Competed with oath in wager, like pastime in hell,—nay, worse:
- For pastime turned to earnest, as up there sprang at last
- The son at the throat of the father, seized him and held him fast.
- "Out of this house you go!"—(there followed a hideous oath)—
- "This oven where now we bake, too hot to hold us both!

- If there's snow outside, there's coolness: out with you, bide a spell
- In the drift and save the sexton the charge of a parish shell!"
- Now, the old trunk was tough, was solid as stump of oak
- Untouched at the core by a thousand years: much less had its seventy broke
- One whipcord nerve in the muscly mass from neck to shoulder-blade
- Of the mountainous man, whereon his child's rash hand like a feather weighed.
- Nevertheless at once did the mammoth shut his eyes,
 Drop chin to breast, drop hands to sides, stand stiffened
 —arms and thighs
- All of a piece—struck mute, much as a sentry stands,

 Patient to take the enemy's fire: his captain so com-
- Whereat the son's wrath flew to fury at such sheer scorn
- Of his puny strength by the giant eld thus acting the babe new-born:

- And "Neither will this turn serve!" yelled he. "Out with you! Trundle, log!
- If you cannot tramp and trudge like a man, try all-fours like a dog!"
- Still the old man stood mute. So, logwise,—down to floor Pulled from his fireside place, dragged on from hearth to door,—
- Was he pushed, a very log, staircase along, until A certain turn in the steps was reached, a yard from the
- A certain turn in the steps was reached, a yard from the house-door-sill.
- Then the father opened eyes—each spark of their rage-extinct,—
- Temples, late black, dead-blanched,—right-hand with left-hand linked,—
- He faced his son submissive; when slow the accents came,
- They were strangely mild though his son's rash hand on his neck lay all the same.
- "Hob, on just such a night of a Christmas long ago,
 For such a cause, with such a gesture, did I drag—so—
 My father down thus far: but, softening here, I heard
 A voice in my heart, and stopped: you wait for an outer word.

- "For your own sake, not mine, soften you too! Untrod Leave this last step we reach, nor brave the finger of God!
- I dared not pass its lifting: I did well. I nor blame

 Nor praise you. I stopped here: and, Hob, do you the same!"
- Straightway the son relaxed his hold of the father's throat.
- They mounted, side by side, to the room again: no note Took either of each, no sign made each to either: last As first, in absolute silence, their Christmas-night they passed.
- At dawn, the father sate on, dead, in the self-same place,
- With an outburst blackening still the old bad fightingface:
- But the son crouched all a-tremble like any lamb newyeaned.
- When he went to the burial, someone's staff he borrowed —tottered and leaned.
- But his lips were loose, not locked,—kept muttering, mumbling. "There!

- At his cursing and swearing!" the youngsters cried: but the elders thought "In prayer."
- A boy threw stones: he picked them up and stored them in his vest.
- So tottered, muttered, mumbled he, till he died, perhaps found rest.
- "Is there a reason in nature for these hard hearts?" O Lear,
- That a reason out of nature must turn them soft, seems clear!

IVÀN IVÀNOVITCH.

- "They tell me, your carpenters," quoth I to my friend the Russ,
- "Make a simple hatchet serve as a tool-box serves with us.
- Arm but each man with his axe, 't is a hammer and saw and plane
- And chisel, and—what know I else? We should imitate in vain
- The mastery wherewithal, by a flourish of just the adze, He cleaves, clamps, dovetails in,—no need of our nails and brads.—
- The manageable pine: 't is said he could shave himself With the axe,—so all adroit, now a giant and now an elf, Does he work and play at once!"
- Quoth my friend the Russ to me, "Ay, that and more beside on occasion! It scarce may be
- You never heard tell a tale told children, time out of mind,

- By father and mother and nurse, for a moral that's behind,
- Which children quickly seize. If the incident happened at all,
- We place it in Peter's time when hearts were great not small,
- Germanized, Frenchified. I wager 't is old to you
- As the story of Adam and Eve, and possibly quite as true."
- In the deep of our land, 't is said, a village from out the woods
- Emerged on the great main-road 'twixt two great solitudes.
- Through forestry right and left, black verst and verst of pine,
- From village to village runs the road's long wide bare line.
- Clearance and clearance break the else-unconquered growth
- Of pine and all that breeds and broods there, leaving loth
- Man's inch of masterdom,—spot of life, spirt of fire,—
 To star the dark and dread, lest right and rule expire
 xv. D

Throughout the monstrous wild, a-hungered to resume Its ancient sway, suck back the world into its womb:

Defrauded by man's craft which clove from North to South

This highway broad and straight e'en from the Neva's mouth

To Moscow's gates of gold. So, spot of life and spirt Of fire aforesaid, burn, each village death-begirt By wall and wall of pine—unprobed undreamed abyss.

Early one winter morn, in such a village as this, Snow-whitened everywhere except the middle road Ice-roughed by track of sledge, there worked by his abode Ivàn Ivànovitch, the carpenter, employed

On a huge shipmast trunk; his axe now trimmed and toyed

With branch and twig, and now some chop athwart the bole

Changed bole to billets, bared at once the sap and soul.

About him, watched the work his neighbours sheepskinclad;

Each bearded mouth puffed steam, each grey eye twinkled glad

To see the sturdy arm which, never stopping play, Proved strong man's blood still boils, freeze winter as he may. Sudden, a burst of bells. Out of the road, on edge Of the hamlet—horse's hoofs galloping. "How, a sledge?

What's here?" cried all as—in, up to the open space, Workyard and market-ground, folk's common meetingplace,—

Stumbled on, till he fell, in one last bound for life, A horse: and, at his heels, a sledge held—"Dmitri's wife! Back without Dmitri too! and children—where are they? Only a frozen corpse!"

They drew it forth: then—" Nay, Not dead, though like to die! Gone hence a month ago: Home again, this rough jaunt—alone through night and snow—

What can the cause be? Hark—Droug, old horse, how he groans:

His day's done! Chafe away, keep chafing, for she moans:

She's coming to! Give here: see, motherkin, your friends!

Cheer up, all safe at home! Warm inside makes amends

For outside cold,—sup quick! Don't look as we were bears!

What is it startles you? What strange adventure stares

Up at us in your face? You know friends—which is which?

I 'm Vàssili, he 's Sergeì, Ivàn Ivànovitch .

At the word, the woman's eyes, slow-wandering till they neared

The blue eyes o'er the bush of honey-coloured beard,

Took in full light and sense and—torn to rags, some dream

Which hid the naked truth—O loud and long the scream She gave, as if all power of voice within her throat Poured itself wild away to waste in one dread note! Then followed gasps and sobs, and then the steady flow Of kindly tears: the brain was saved, a man might know. Down fell her face upon the good friend's propping knee;

His broad hands smoothed her head, as fain to brush it free

From fancies, swarms that stung like bees unhived. He soothed—

"Loukèria, Loùscha!"—still he, fondling, smoothed and smoothed.

At last her lips formed speech.

"Ivàn, dear—you indeed! You, just the same dear you! While I...O intercede, Sweet Mother, with thy Son Almighty—let his might Bring yesterday once more, undo all done last night! But this time yesterday, Ivan, I sat like you, A child on either knee, and, dearer than the two, A babe inside my arms, close to my heart—that 's lost In morsels o'er the snow! Father, Son, Holy Ghost, Cannot you bring again my blessed yesterday?"

When no more tears would flow, she told her tale: this way.

"Maybe, a month ago,—was it not?—news came here,
They wanted, deeper down, good workmen fit to rear
A church and roof it in. 'We'll go,' my husband said:
'None understands like me to melt and mould their lead.'

So, friends here helped us off—Ivan, dear, you the first! How gay we jingled forth, all five—(my heart will burst)—

While Dmitri shook the reins, urged Droug upon his track!

"Well, soon the month ran out, we just were coming back,

When yesterday—behold, the village was on fire!

Fire ran from house to house. What help, as, nigh and nigher,

The flames came furious? 'Haste,' cried Dmitri, 'men must do

The little good man may: to sledge and in with you,
You and our three! We check the fire by laying flat
Each building in its path,—I needs must stay for that,—
But you . . . no time for talk! Wrap round you every rug,

Cover the couple close,—you'll have the babe to hug.

No care to guide old Droug, he knows his way, by guess,

Once start him on the road: but chirrup, none the less!

The snow lies glib as glass and hard as steel, and soon You'll have rise, fine and full, a marvel of a moon. Hold straight up, all the same, this lighted twist of pitch! Once home and with our friend Ivan Ivanovitch, All's safe: I have my pay in pouch, all's right with me, So I but find as safe you and our precious three!

Off, Droug!'—because the flames had reached us, and the men

Shouted 'But lend a hand, Dmitri—as good as ten!'

"So, in we bundled—I, and those God gave me once; Old Droug, that's stiff at first, seemed youthful for the nonce:

He understood the case, galloping straight ahead.

Out came the moon: my twist soon dwindled, feebly red

In that unnatural day—yes, daylight, bred between Moon-light and snow-light, lamped those grotto-depths which screen

Such devils from God's eye. Ah, pines, how straight you grow

Nor bend one pitying branch, true breed of brutal snow! Some undergrowth had served to keep the devils blind While we escaped outside their border!

"Was that-wind?

Anyhow, Droug starts, stops, back go his ears, he snuffs, Snorts,—never such a snort! then plunges, knows the sough's

Only the wind: yet, no—our breath goes up too straight!

Still the low sound,—less low, loud, louder, at a rate

There's no mistaking more! Shall I lean out—look—learn

The truth whatever it be? Pad, pad! At last, I turn-

"'T is the regular pad of the wolves in pursuit of the life in the sledge!

An army they are: close-packed they press like the thrust of a wedge:

They increase as they hunt: for I see, through the pinetrunks ranged each side,

- Slip forth new fiend and fiend, make wider and still more wide
- The four-footed steady advance. The foremost—none may pass:
- They are elders and lead the line, eye and eye—greenglowing brass!
- But a long way distant still. Droug, save us! He does his best:
- Yet they gain on us, gain, till they reach,—one reaches . . . How utter the rest?
- O that Satan-faced first of the band! How he lolls out the length of his tongue,
- How he laughs and lets gleam his white teeth! He is on me, his paws pry among
- The wraps and the rugs! O my pair, my twin-pigeons, lie still and seem dead!
- Stepàn, he shall never have you for a meal,—here 's your mother instead!
- No, he will not be counselled—must cry, poor Stiòpka, so foolish! though first
- Of my boy-brood, he was not the best: nay, neighbours have called him the worst:
- He was puny, an undersized slip,—a darling to me, all the same!
- But little there was to be praised in the boy, and a plenty to blame.

- I loved him with heart and soul, yes—but, deal him a blow for a fault,
- He would sulk for whole days. 'Foolish boy! lie still or the villain will vault,
- Will snatch you from over my head!' No use! he cries, screams,—who can hold
- Fast a boy in a frenzy of fear! It follows—as I foretold!
- The Satan-face snatched and snapped: I tugged, I tore —and then
- His brother too needs must shriek! If one must go, 't is men
- The Tsar needs, so we hear, not ailing boys! Perhaps
- My hands relaxed their grasp, got tangled in the wraps:
- God, he was gone! I looked: there tumbled the cursed crew,
- Each fighting for a share: too busy to pursue!
- That's so far gain at least: Droug, gallop another verst
- Or two, or three—God sends we beat them, arrive the first!
- A mother who boasts two boys was ever accounted rich:
- Some have not a boy: some have, but lose him,—God knows which
- Is worse: how pitiful to see your weakling pine
- And pale and pass away! Strong brats, this pair of mine!

- "O misery! for while I settle to what near seems
- Content, I am 'ware again of the tramp, and again there gleams—
- Point and point—the line, eyes, levelled green brassy fire!
- So soon is resumed your chase? Will nothing appease, nought tire
- The furies? And yet I think—I am certain the race is slack,
- And the numbers are nothing like. Not a quarter of the pack!
- Feasters and those full-fed are staying behind . . . Ah why?
- We'll sorrow for that too soon! Now,—gallop, reach home, and die,
- Nor ever again leave house, to trust our life in the trap
- For life—we call a sledge! Teriòscha, in my lap!
- Yes, I'll lie down upon you, tight-tie you with the strings
- Here—of my heart! No fear, this time, your mother flings . .
- Flings? I flung? Never! But think!—a woman, after all
- Contending with a wolf! Save you I must and shall, Terentil!
 - "How now? What, you still head the race,

- Your eyes and tongue and teeth crave fresh food, Satanface?
- There and there! Plain I struck green fire out! Flash again?
- All a poor fist can do to damage eyes proves vain!
- My fist—why not crunch that? He is wanton for . . . O God,
- Why give this wolf his taste? Common wolves scrape and prod
- The earth till out they scratch some corpse—mere putrid flesh!
- Why must this glutton leave the faded, choose the fresh?
- Terentil—God, feel!—his neck keeps fast thy bag Of holy things, saints' bones, this Satan-face will drag Forth, and devour along with him, our Pope declared The relics were to save from danger!
 - "Spurned, not spared!
- 'T was through my arms, crossed arms, he—nuzzling now with snout,
- Now ripping, tooth and claw—plucked, pulled Terentii out,
- A prize indeed! I saw—how could I else but see?—
- My precious one—I bit to hold back—pulled from me!

Up came the others, fell to dancing—did the imps!—
Skipped as they scampered round. There's one is grey, and limps:

Who knows but old bad Marpha,—she always owed me spite

And envied me my births,—skulks out of doors at night
And turns into a wolf, and joins the sisterhood,
And laps the youthful life, then slinks from out the wood,
Squats down at door by dawn, spins there demure as erst
—No strength, old crone,—not she!—to crawl forth half a verst!

"Well, I escaped with one: 'twixt one and none there lies

The space 'twixt heaven and hell. And see, a rose-light dyes

The endmost snow: 't is dawn, 't is day, 't is safe at home! We have outwitted you! Ay, monsters, snarl and foam, Fight each the other fiend, disputing for a share,—Forgetful, in your greed, our finest off we bear, Tough Droug and I,—my babe, my boy that shall be man,

My man that shall be more, do all a hunter can
To trace and follow and find and catch and crucify Wolves, wolfkins, all your crew! A thousand deaths shall die

The whimperingest cub that ever squeezed the teat!
'Take that!' we'll stab you with,—'the tenderness we met

When, wretches, you danced round—not this, thank God—not this!

Hellhounds, we baulk you!'

"But—Ah, God above!—Bliss, bliss—no! And yet—yes, for Droug knows

Not the band, no! And yet—yes, for Droug knows him! One—

This only of them all has said 'She saves a son!'
His fellows disbelieve such luck: but he believes,
He lets them pick the bones, laugh at him in their sleeves:
He 's off and after us,—one speck, one spot, one ball
Grows bigger, bound on bound,—one wolf as good as all!
Oh but I know the trick! Have at the snaky tongue!
That's the right way with wolves! Go, tell your mates.

I wrung

The panting morsel out, left you to howl your worst!

Now for it—now! Ah me! I know him—thrice-accurst

Satan-face,—him to the end my foe!

"All fight's in vain:

This time the green brass points pierce to my very brain. I fall—fall as I ought—quite on the babe I guard:

I overspread with flesh the whole of him. Too hard

To die this way, torn piecemeal? Move hence? Not I —one inch!

Gnaw through me, through and through: flat thus I lie nor flinch!

O God, the feel of the fang furrowing my shoulder !—see! It grinds—it grates the bone. O Kirill under me,

Could I do more? Beside he knew wolf's way to win:

I clung, closed round like wax: yet in he wedged and in,

Past my neck, past my breasts, my heart, until . . . how feels

The onion-bulb your knife parts, pushing through its peels,

Till out you scoop its clove wherein lie stalk and leaf And bloom and seed unborn?

"That slew me: yes, in brief,

I died then, dead I lay doubtlessly till Droug stopped Here, I suppose. I come to life, I find me propped Thus—how or when or why,—I know not. Tell me, friends.

All was a dream: laugh quick and say the nightmare ends!

Soon I shall find my house: 't is over there: in proof, Save for that chimney heaped with snow, you 'd see the roof

Which holds my three—my two—my one—not one?

"Life's mixed

With misery, yet we live—must live. The Satan fixed His face on mine so fast, I took its print as pitch Takes what it cools beneath. Ivan Ivanovitch, 'T is you unharden me, you thaw, disperse the thing! Only keep looking kind, the horror will not cling. Your face smooths fast away each print of Satan. Tears—What good they do! Life's sweet, and all its after-years, Ivàn Ivànovitch, I owe you! Yours am I! May God reward you, dear!"

Down she sank. Solemnly

Ivàn rose, raised his axe,—for fitly, as she knelt,

Her head lay: well-apart, each side, her arms hung,— dealt

Lightning-swift thunder-strong one blow—no need of more!

Headless she knelt on still: that pine was sound at core

(Neighbours were used to say)—cast-iron-kernelled—which Taxed for a second stroke Ivan Ivanovitch.

The man was scant of words as strokes. "It had to be: I could no other: God it was bade 'Act for me!"

Then stooping, peering round—what is it now he lacks? A proper strip of bark wherewith to wipe his axe.

Which done, he turns, goes in, closes the door behind.

The others mute remain, watching the blood-snake wind

Into a hiding-place among the splinter-heaps.

At length, still mute, all move: one lifts,—from where it steeps

Redder each ruddy rag of pine,—the head: two more Take up the dripping body: then, mute still as before, Move in a sort of march, march on till marching ends Opposite to the church; where halting,—who suspends, By its long hair, the thing, deposits in its place The piteous head: once more the body shows no trace Of harm done: there lies whole the Loùscha, maid and wife

And mother, loved until this latest of her life.

Then all sit on the bank of snow which bounds a space

Kept free before the porch for judgment: just the place!

Presently all the souls, man, woman, child, which make The village up, are found assembling for the sake Of what is to be done. The very Jews are there: A Gipsy-troop, though bound with horses for the Fair,

Squats with the rest. Each heart with its conception seethes

And simmers, but no tongue speaks: one may say,— none breathes.

Anon from out the church totters the Pope—the priest—Hardly alive, so old, a hundred years at least.

With him, the Commune's head, a hoary senior too,
Starosta, that's his style,—like Equity Judge with you,—
Natural Jurisconsult: then, fenced about with furs,
Pomeschik,—Lord of the Land, who wields—and none demurs—

A power of life and death. They stoop, survey the corpse.

Then, straightened on his staff, the Stàrosta—the thorpe's Sagaciousest old man—hears what you just have heard, From Droug's first inrush, all, up to Ivàn's last word "God bade me act for him: I dared not disobey!"

Silence—the Pomeschik broke with "A wild wrong way Of righting wrong—if wrong there were, such wrath to rouse!

Why was not law observed? What article allows Whoso may please to play the judge, and, judgment dealt,

Play executioner, as promptly as we pelt

XV.

E

To death, without appeal, the vermin whose sole fault
Has been—it dared to leave the darkness of its vault,
Intrude upon our day! Too sudden and too rash!
What was this woman's crime? Suppose the church should crash

Down where I stand, your lord: bound are my serfs to dare

Their utmost that I 'scape: yet, if the crashing scare
My children,—as you are,—if sons fly, one and all,
Leave father to his fate,—poor cowards though I call
The runaways, I pause before I claim their life Because they prized it more than mine. I would each wife

Died for her husband's sake, each son to save his sire:

'T is glory, I applaud—scarce duty, I require.

Ivàn Ivànovitch has done a deed that's named

Murder by law and me: who doubts, may speak unblamed!"

All turned to the old Pope. "Ay, children, I am old—How old, myself have got to know no longer. Rolled Quite round, my orb of life, from infancy to age, Seems passing back again to youth. A certain stage At least I reach, or dream I reach, where I discern Truer truths, laws behold more lawlike than we learn

When first we set our foot to tread the course I trod
With man to guide my steps: who leads me now is God.
'Your young men shall see visions:' and in my youth I saw

And paid obedience to man's visionary law:

'Your old men shall dream dreams:' and, in my age, a hand

Conducts me through the cloud round law to where I stand

Firm on its base,-know cause, who, before, knew effect.

"The world lies under me: and nowhere I detect
So great a gift as this—God's own—of human life.

'Shall the dead praise thee?' No! 'The whole live world is rife.

God, with thy glory,' rather! Life then, God's best of gifts, For what shall man exchange? For life—when so he shifts

The weight and turns the scale, lets life for life restore God's balance, sacrifice the less to gain the more, Substitute—for low life, another 's or his own— Life large and liker God's who gave it: thus alone May life extinguish life that life may trulier be! How low this law descends on earth, is not for me To trace: complexed becomes the simple, intricate The plain, when I pursue law's winding. 'T is the straight

Outflow of law I know and name: to law, the fount

Fresh from God's footstool, friends, follow while I remount.

"A mother bears a child: perfection is complete
So far in such a birth. Enabled to repeat
The miracle of life,—herself was born so just
A type of womankind, that God sees fit to trust
Her with the holy task of giving life in turn.
Crowned by this crowning pride,—how say you, should she spurn

Regality—discrowned, unchilded, by her choice
Of barrenness exchanged for fruit which made rejoice
Creation, though life's self were lost in giving birth
To life more fresh and fit to glorify God's earth?
How say you, should the hand God trusted with life's torch

Kindled to light the world—aware of sparks that scorch, Let fall the same? Forsooth, her flesh a fire-flake stings The mother drops the child! Among what monstrous things

Shall she be classed? Because of motherhood, each male Yields to his partner place, sinks proudly in the scale: His strength owned weakness, wit—folly, and courage—fear,

Beside the female proved male's mistress—only here.

The fox-dam, hunger-pined, will slay the felon sire
Who dares assault her whelp: the beaver, stretched on fire,

Will die without a groan: no pang avails to wrest
Her young from where they hide—her sanctuary breast.
What's here then? Answer me, thou dead one, as, I trow,

Standing at God's own bar, he bids thee answer now!

Thrice crowned wast thou—each crown of pride, a child

—thy charge!

Where are they? Lost? Enough: no need that thou enlarge

On how or why the loss: life left to utter 'lost'
Condemns itself beyond appeal. The soldier's post
Guards from the foe's attack the camp he sentinels:
That he no traitor proved, this and this only tells—
Over the corpse of him trod foe to foe's success.
Yet—one by one thy crowns torn from thee—thou no

To scare the world, shame God,—livedst! I hold He saw less

The unexampled sin, ordained the novel law,
Whereof first instrument was first intelligence
Found loyal here. I hold that, failing human sense,
The very earth had oped, sky fallen, to efface
Humanity's new wrong, motherhood's first disgrace.

Earth oped not, neither fell the sky, for prompt was found

A man and man enough, head-sober and heart-sound, Ready to hear God's voice, resolute to obey.

Ivàn Ivànovitch, I hold, has done, this day,

No otherwise than did, in ages long ago,

Moses when he made known the purport of that flow

Of fire athwart the law's twain-tables! I proclaim

Ivàn Ivànovitch God's servant!"

At which name

Uprose that creepy whisper from out the crowd, is wont To swell and surge and sink when fellow-men confront A punishment that falls on fellow flesh and blood, Appallingly beheld—shudderingly understood, No less, to be the right, the just, the merciful. "God's servant!" hissed the crowd.

When that Amen grew dull And died away and left acquittal plain adjudged, "Amen!" last sighed the lord. "There's none shall Escape from punishment in such a novel case.

Deferring to old age and holy life,—be grace

Granted! say I. No less, scruples might shake a sense

Firmer than I boast mine. Law's law, and evidence say I grudged

Of breach therein lies plain,—blood-red-bright,—all may see!

Yet all absolve the deed: absolved the deed must be!

"And next—as mercy rules the hour—methinks 't were well

You signify forthwith its sentence, and dispel
The doubts and fears, I judge, which busy now the head

Law puts a halter round—a halo—you, instead!

Ivàn Ivànovitch—what think you he expects

Will follow from his feat? Go, tell him—law protects

Murder, for once: no need he longer keep behind

The Sacred Pictures—where skulks Innocence enshrined,

Or I missay! Go, some! You others, haste and hide

The dismal object there: get done, whate'er betide!"

So, while the youngers raised the corpse, the elders trooped

Silently to the house: where halting, someone stooped, Listened beside the door; all there was silent too.

Then they held counsel; then pushed door and, passing through,

Stood in the murderer's presence.

Ivàn Ivànovitch

Knelt, building on the floor that Kremlin rare and rich

He deftly cut and carved on lazy winter nights. Some five young faces watched, breathlessly, as, to rights, Piece upon piece, he reared the fabric nigh complete. Stèscha, Ivàn's old mother, sat spinning by the heat Of the oven where his wife Kàtia stood baking bread. Ivàn's self, as he turned his honey-coloured head, Was just in act to drop, 'twixt fir-cones,—each a dome,—The scooped-out yellow gourd presumably the home Of Kolokol the Big: the bell, therein to hitch,—An acorn-cup—was ready: Ivàn Ivànovitch Turned with it in his mouth.

They told him he was free As air to walk abroad. "How otherwise?" asked he.

TRAY.

Sing me a hero! Quench my thirst Of soul, ye bards!

Quoth Bard the first:

"Sir Olaf, the good knight, did don His helm and eke his habergeon . . ." Sir Olaf and his bard——!

- "That sin-scathed brow" (quoth Bard the second)
 "That eye wide ope as though Fate beckoned
 My hero to some steep, beneath
 Which precipice smiled tempting death . .
 You too without your host have reckoned!
- "A beggar-child" (let's hear this third!)
 "Sat on a quay's edge: like a bird
 Sang to herself at careless play,
 And fell into the stream. 'Dismay!
 Help, you the standers-by!' None stirred.

"Bystanders reason, think of wives
And children ere they risk their lives.
Over the balustrade has bounced
A mere instinctive dog, and pounced
Plumb on the prize. 'How well he dives!

"'Up he comes with the child, see, tight
In mouth, alive too, clutched from quite
A depth of ten feet—twelve, I bet!
Good dog! What, off again? There's yet
Another child to save? All right!

"' How strange we saw no other fall!

It 's instinct in the animal.

Good dog! But he 's a long while under:

If he got drowned I should not wonder—

Strong current, that against the wall!

"'Here he comes, holds in mouth this time
—What may the thing be? Well, that's prime!
Now, did you ever? Reason reigns
In man alone, since all Tray's pains
Have fished—the child's doll from the slime!'

"And so, amid the laughter gay, Trotted my hero off,—old Tray,— TRAY 59

Till somebody, prerogatived
With reason, reasoned: 'Why he dived,
His brain would show us, I should say.

"'John, go and catch—or, if needs be, Purchase—that animal for me! By vivisection, at expense Of half-an-hour and eighteenpence, How brain secretes dog's soul, we'll see!"

NED BRATTS.

- 'T was Bedford Special Assize, one daft Midsummer's Day:
- A broiling blasting June,—was never its like, men say.
- Corn stood sheaf-ripe already, and trees looked yellow as that;
- Ponds drained dust-dry, the cattle lay foaming around each flat.
- Inside town, dogs went mad, and folk kept bibbing beer
- While the parsons prayed for rain. 'T was horrible, yes —but queer:
- Queer—for the sun laughed gay, yet nobody moved a hand
- To work one stroke at his trade: as given to understand
- That all was come to a stop, work and such worldly ways,
- And the world's old self about to end in a merry blaze.

Midsummer's Day moreover was the first of Bedford Fair, With Bedford Town's tag-rag and bobtail a-bowsing there.

But the Court House, Quality crammed: through doors ope, windows wide,

High on the Bench you saw sit Lordships side by side.

There frowned Chief Justice Jukes, fumed learned Brother Small,

And fretted their fellow Judge: like threshers, one and all, Of a reek with laying down the law in a furnace. Why?

Because their lungs breathed flame—the regular crowd forbye—

From gentry pouring in—quite a nosegay, to be sure!

How else could they pass the time, six mortal hours endure

Till night should extinguish day, when matters might haply mend?

Meanwhile no bad resource was—watching begin and end Some trial for life and death, in a brisk five minutes' space,

And betting which knave would 'scape, which hang, from his sort of face.

So, their Lordships toiled and moiled, and a deal of work was done

(I warrant) to justify the mirth of the crazy sun

- As this and 't other lout, struck dumb at the sudden show Of red robes and white wigs, boggled nor answered "Boh!"
- When asked why he, Tom Styles, should not—because Jack Nokes
- Had stolen the horse—be hanged: for Judges must have their jokes,
- And louts must make allowance—let 's say, for some blue fly
- Which punctured a dewy scalp where the frizzles stuck awry—
- Else Tom had fleered scot-free, so nearly over and done
- Was the main of the job. Full-measure, the gentles enjoyed their fun,
- As a twenty-five were tried, rank puritans caught at prayer
- In a cow-house and laid by the heels,—have at 'em, devil may care!—
- And ten were prescribed the whip, and ten a brand on the cheek,
- And five a slit of the nose—just leaving enough to tweak.
- Well, things at jolly high-tide, amusement steeped in fire, While noon smote fierce the roof's red tiles to heart's desire,

- The Court a-simmer with smoke, one ferment of oozy flesh, One spirituous humming musk mount-mounting until its mesh
- Entoiled all heads in a fluster, and Serjeant Postlethwayte
- —Dashing the wig oblique as he mopped his oily pate— Cried "Silence, or I grow grease! No loophole lets in air?
- Jurymen,-Guilty, Death! Gainsay me if you dare!"
- —Things at this pitch, I say,—what hubbub without the doors?
- What laughs, shrieks, hoots and yells, what rudest of uproars?
- Bounce through the barrier throng a bulk comes rolling vast!
- Thumps, kicks,—no manner of use !—spite of them rolls at last
- Into the midst a ball which, bursting, brings to view
- Publican Black Ned Bratts and Tabby his big wife too:
- Both in a muck-sweat, both . . . were never such eyes uplift
- At the sight of yawning hell, such nostrils—snouts that sniffed
- Sulphur, such mouths a-gape ready to swallow flame! Horrified, hideous, frank fiend-faces! yet, all the same,

- Mixed with a certain . . . eh? how shall I dare style—mirth
- The desperate grin of the guess that, could they break from earth,
- Heaven was above, and hell might rage in impotence Below the saved, the saved!
 - "Confound you! (no offence!)
- Out of our way,—push, wife! Yonder their Worships be!"
- Ned Bratts has reached the bar, and "Hey, my Lords," roars he,
- "A Jury of life and death, Judges the prime of the land,
- Constables, javelineers,—all met, if I understand,
- To decide so knotty a point as whether 't was Jack or Joan
- Robbed the henroost, pinched the pig, hit the King's Arms with a stone,
- Dropped the baby down the well, left the tithesman in the lurch,
- Or, three whole Sundays running, not once attended church!
- What a pother—do these deserve the parish-stocks or whip,
- More or less brow to brand, much or little nose to snip,-

When, in our Public, plain stand we—that's we stand here,

I and my Tab, brass-bold, brick-built of beef and beer,

—Do not we, slut? Step forth and show your beauty, jade!

Wife of my bosom—that's the word now! What a trade

We drove! None said us nay: nobody loved his life So little as wag a tongue against us,—did they, wife?

Yet they knew us all the while, in their hearts, for what we are —Worst couple, rogue and quean, unhanged—search near and far!

Eh, Tab? The pedlar, now—o'er his noggin—who warned a mate

To cut and run, nor risk his pack where its loss of weight Was the least to dread,—aha, how we two laughed a-good As, stealing round the midden, he came on where I stood With billet poised and raised,—you, ready with the rope,—

Ah, but that's past, that's sin repented of, we hope!

Men knew us for that same, yet safe and sound stood we!

The lily-livered knaves knew too (I've baulked a d——)

Our keeping the 'Pied Bull' was just a mere pretence:

Too slow the pounds make food, drink, lodging, from out the pence!

- There's not a stoppage to travel has chanced, this ten long year,

- When Gipsy Smouch made bold to cheat us of our due,
- —Eh, Tab? the Squire's strong-box we helped the rascal to—they're plays,

- Songs, ballads and the like: here's no such strawy blaze, But sky wide ope, sun, moon, and seven stars out fullflare!
- Tab, help and tell! I'm hoarse. A mug! or—no, a prayer!
- Dip for one out of the Book! Who wrote it in the Jail—He plied his pen unhelped by beer, sirs, I'll be bail!
- "I've got my second wind. In trundles she—that's Tab.
- 'Why, Gammer, what's come now, that—bobbing like a crab
- On Yule-tide bowl—your head's a-work and both your eyes
- Break loose? Afeard, you fool? As if the dead can rise!
- Say—Bagman Dick was found last May with fuddling-cap
- Stuffed in his mouth: to choke's a natural mishap!'

- 'Gaffer, be—blessed,' cries she, 'and Bagman Dick as well!
- I, you, and he are damned: this Public is our hell:
- We live in fire: live coals don't feel!—once quenched, they learn—
- Cinders do, to what dust they moulder while they burn!'
- "'If you don't speak straight out,' says I—belike I swore—
- 'A knobstick, well you know the taste of, shall, once more, Teach you to talk, my maid!' She ups with such a face, Heart sunk inside me. 'Well, pad on, my prate-apace!'
- "'I've been about those laces we need for . . . never mind!
- If henceforth they tie hands, 't is mine they'll have to bind.
- You know who makes them best—the Tinker in our cage,
- Pulled-up for gospelling, twelve years ago: no age
 To try another trade,—yet, so he scorned to take Money he did not earn, he taught himself the make
 Of laces, tagged and tough—Dick Bagman found them so!
- Good customers were we! Well, last week, you must know

- His girl,—the blind young chit, who hawks about his wares,—
- She takes it in her head to come no more—such airs

 These hussies have! Yet, since we need a stoutish lace,—
- "I'll to the jail-bird father, abuse her to his face!"
- So, first I filled a jug to give me heart, and then,
- Primed to the proper pitch, I posted to their den-
- Patmore—they style their prison! I tip the turnkey, catch
- My heart up, fix my face, and fearless lift the latch-
- Both arms a-kimbo, in bounce with a good round oath
- Ready for rapping out: no "Lawks" nor "By my troth!"
- "'There sat my man, the father. He looked up: what one feels
- When heart that leapt to mouth drops down again to heels!
- He raised his hand . . . Hast seen, when drinking out the night,
- And in, the day, earth grow another something quite Under the sun's first stare? I stood a very stone.
- "" "Woman!" (a fiery tear he put in every tone),

- "How should my child frequent your house where lust is sport,
- Violence—trade? Too true! I trust no vague report.
- Her angel's hand, which stops the sight of sin, leaves clear
- The other gate of sense, lets outrage through the ear.
- What has she heard!—which, heard shall never be again.
- Better lack food than feast, a Dives in the-wain
- Or reign or train—of Charles!" (His language was not ours:
- 'T is my belief, God spoke: no tinker has such powers).
- "Bread, only bread they bring-my laces: if we broke
- Your lump of leavened sin, the loaf's first crumb would choke!"
- "'Down on my marrow-bones! Then all at once rose he:
- His brown hair burst a-spread, his eyes were suns to see:
- Up went his hands: "Through flesh, I reach, I read thy soul!
- So may some stricken tree look blasted, bough and bole,
- Champed by the fire-tooth, charred without, and yet,
- With dreriment about, within may life be found,

A prisoned power to branch and blossom as before, Could but the gardener cleave the cloister, reach the core,

Loosen the vital sap: yet where shall help be found?
Who says 'How save it?'—nor 'Why cumbers it the ground?'

Woman, that tree art thou! All sloughed about with scurf,

Thy stag-horns fright the sky, thy snake-roots sting the turf!

Drunkenness, wantonness, theft, murder gnash and gnarl Thine outward, case thy soul with coating like the marle Satan stamps flat upon each head beneath his hoof! And how deliver such? The strong men keep aloof, Lover and friend stand far, the mocking ones pass by, Tophet gapes wide for prey: lost soul, despair and die! What then? 'Look unto me and be ye saved!' saith God:

'I strike the rock, outstreats the life-stream at my rod! Be your sins scarlet, wool shall they seem like,—although As crimson red, yet turn white as the driven snow!"

- "'There, there! All I seem to somehow understand
- Is—that, if I reached home, 't was through the guiding

Of his blind girl which led and led me through the streets

And out of town and up to door again. What greets First thing my eye, as limbs recover from their swoon?

A book—this Book she gave at parting. "Father's boon—

The Book he wrote: it reads as if he spoke himself:

He cannot preach in bonds, so,—take it down from shelf

When you want counsel,—think you hear his very voice!"

"'Wicked dear Husband, first despair and then rejoice!

Dear wicked Husband, waste no tick of moment more, Be saved like me, bald trunk! There's greenness yet at core,

Sap under slough! Read, read!'

"Let me take breath, my lords!

I'd like to know, are these—hers, mine, or Bunyan's words?

I'm 'wildered—scarce with drink,—nowise with drink alone!

You'll say, with heat: but heat's no stuff to split a stone

- Like this black boulder—this flint heart of mine: the Book—
- That dealt the crashing blow! Sirs, here's the fist that shook
- His beard till Wrestler Jem howled like a just-lugged bear!
- You had brained me with a feather: at once I grew aware
- Christmas was meant for me. A burden at your back,
- Good Master Christmas? Nay,—yours was that Joseph's sack,
- —Or whose it was,—which held the cup,—compared with mine!
- Robbery loads my loins, perjury cracks my chine,
- Adultery . . . nay, Tab, you pitched me as I flung!
- One word, I'll up with fist . . . No, sweet spouse, hold your tongue!
- "I'm hasting to the end. The Book, sirs—take and read!

You have my history in a nutshell,—ay, indeed!

It must off, my burden! See,—slack straps and into pit,

Roll, reach the bottom, rest, rot there—a plague on it!

For a mountain's sure to fall and bury Bedford Town,

Destruction'—that's the name, and fire shall burn it down!

- O 'scape the wrath in time! Time's now, if not too late.
- How can I pilgrimage up to the wicket-gate?
- Next comes Despond the slough: not that I fear to pull
- Through mud, and dry my clothes at brave House Beautiful—
- But it's late in the day, I reckon: had I left years ago
- Town, wife, and children dear . . . Well, Christmas did, you know !—
- Soon I had met in the valley and tried my cudgel's strength
- On the enemy horned and winged, a-straddle across its length!
- Have at his horns, thwick—thwack: they snap, see!
 Hoof and hoof—
- Bang, break the fetlock-bones! For love's sake, keep aloof
- Angels! I'm man and match,—this cudgel for my flail,—
- To thresh him, hoofs and horns, bat's wing and serpent's tail!
- A chance gone by! But then, what else does Hopeful ding
- Into the deafest ear except—hope, hope 's the thing?

Too late i' the day for me to thrid the windings: but
There 's still a way to win the race by death's short cut!
Did Master Faithful need climb the Delightful Mounts?
No, straight to Varity Fair,—a fair, by all accounts,
Such as is held outside,—lords, ladies, grand and gay,—
Says he in the face of them, just what you hear me say.
And the Judges brought him in guilty, and brought him

To die in the market-place—St. Peter's Green's about
The same thing: there they flogged, flayed, buffeted, lanced with knives,

Pricked him with swords,—I 'll swear, he 'd full a cat's nine lives,—

So to his end at last came Faithful,—ha, ha, he!
Who holds the highest card? for there stands hid, you see,

Behind the rabble-rout, a chariot, pair and all:

He 's in, he 's off, he 's up, through clouds, at trumpet-call,
Carried the nearest way to Heaven-gate! Odds my life—
Has nobody a sword to spare? not even a knife?

Then hang me, draw and quarter! Tab—do the same by her!

O Master Worldly-Wiseman . . . that's Master Interpreter,

Take the will, not the deed! Our gibbet's handy close: Forestall Last Judgment-Day! Be kindly, not morose!

There wants no earthly judge-and-jurying: here we stand—

Sentence our guilty selves: so, hang us out of hand!

Make haste for pity's sake! A single moment's loss

Means — Satan's lord once more: his whisper shoots across

All singing in my heart, all praying in my brain,

'It comes of heat and beer!'—hark how he guffaws plain!

'To-morrow you'll wake bright, and, in a safe skin, hug

Your sound selves, Tab and you, over a foaming jug! You've had such qualms before, time out of mind!'

He's right!

Did not we kick and cuff and curse away, that night When home we blindly reeled, and left poor humpback Joe

I' the lurch to pay for what . . . somebody did, you know!

Both of us maundered then 'Lame humpback,—never more

Will he come limping, drain his tankard at our door!

He'll swing, while—somebody . . . ' Says Tab, 'No, for I'll peach!'

'I'm for you, Tab,' cries I, 'there's rope enough for each!'

- So blubbered we, and bussed, and went to bed upon
- The grace of Tab's good thought: by morning, all was gone!
- We laughed—'What's life to him, a cripple of no account?'
- Oh, waves increase around—I feel them mount and mount!
- Hang us! To-morrow brings Tom Bearward with his bears:
- One new black-muzzled brute beats Sackerson, he swears:
- (Sackerson, for my money!) And, baiting o'er, the Brawl
- They lead on Turner's Patch, lads, lasses, up tails all,—
- I'm i' the thick o' the throng! That means the Iron Cage,
- —Means the Lost Man inside! Where's hope for such as wage
- War against light? Light's left, light's here, I hold light still.
- So does Tab—make but haste to hang us both! You will?"
- I promise, when he stopped you might have heard a mouse
- Squeak, such a death-like hush sealed up the old Mote House.

But when the mass of man sank meek upon his knees, While Tab, alongside, wheezed a hoarse "Do hang us, please!"

Why, then the waters rose, no eye but ran with tears, Hearts heaved, heads thumped, until, paying all past arrears

Of pity and sorrow, at last a regular scream outbroke Of triumph, joy and praise.

My Lord Chief Justice spoke,

First mopping brow and cheek, where still, for one that budged,

Another bead broke fresh: "What Judge, that ever judged

Since first the world began, judged such a case as this? Why, Master Bratts, long since, folk smelt you out, I wis!

I had my doubts, i' faith, each time you played the fox Convicting geese of crime in yonder witness-box—
Yea, much did I misdoubt, the thief that stole her eggs
Was hardly goosey's self at Reynard's game, i' feggs!
Yet thus much was to praise—you spoke to point, direct—

Swore you heard, saw the theft: no jury could suspect—Dared to suspect,—I'll say,—a spot in white so clear: Goosey was throttled, true: but thereof godly fear

Came of example set, much as our laws intend;

And, though a fox confessed, you proved the Judge's friend.

What if I had my doubts? Suppose I gave them breath, Brought you to bar: what work to do, ere 'Guilty, Death,'—

Had paid our pains! What heaps of witnesses to drag From holes and corners, paid from out the County's bag!

Trial three dog-days long! Amicus Curiæ—that's Your title, no dispute—truth-telling Master Bratts!

Thank you, too, Mistress Tab! Why doubt one word you say?

Hanging you both deserve, hanged both shall be this day!

The tinker needs must be a proper man. I 've heard He lies in Jail long since: if Quality 's good word Warrants me letting loose,—some householder, I mean—Freeholder, better still,—I don't say but—between Now and next Sessions . . . Well! Consider of his case,

I promise to, at least: we owe him so much grace.

Not that—no, God forbid!—I lean to think, as you,
The grace that such repent is any jail-bird's due:
I rather see the fruit of twelve years' pious reign—
Astræa Redux, Charles restored his rights again!

—Of which, another time! I somehow feel a peace Stealing across the world. May deeds like this increase! So, Master Sheriff, stay that sentence I pronounced On those two dozen odd: deserving to be trounced Soundly, and yet . . . well, well, at all events despatch This pair of—shall I say, sinner-saints?—ere we catch Their jail-distemper too. Stop tears, or I'll indite All weeping Bedfordshire for turning Bunyanite!"

So, forms were galloped through. If Justice, on the spur,

Proved somewhat expeditious, would Quality demur?

And happily hanged were they,—why lengthen out my tale?—

Where Bunyan's Statue stands facing where stood his Jail.

- "You are sick, that's sure"—they say:
 "Sick of what?"—they disagree.
 "'T is the brain"—thinks Doctor A;
 "'T is the heart"—holds Doctor B;
 "The liver—my life I'd lay!"
 "The lungs!" "The lights!"
- So ignorant of man's whole
 Of bodily organs plain to see—
 So sage and certain, frank and free,
 About what 's under lock and key—
 Man's soul!

Ah me!

DRAMATIC IDYLS.

SECOND SERIES.

1880.

ECHETLOS.

- HERE is a story shall stir you! Stand up, Greeks dead and gone,
- Who breasted, beat Barbarians, stemmed Persia rolling on,
- Did the deed and saved the world, for the day was Marathon!
- No man but did his manliest, kept rank and fought away
- In his tribe and file: up, back, out, down—was the spear-arm play:
- Like a wind-whipt branchy wood, all spear-arms a-swing that day!

- But one man kept no rank and his sole arm plied no spear,
- As a flashing came and went, and a form i' the van, the rear,
- Brightened the battle up, for he blazed now there, now here.
- Nor helmed nor shielded, he! but, a goat-skin all his wear,
- Like a tiller of the soil, with a clown's limbs broad and bare,
- Went he ploughing on and on: he pushed with a ploughman's share.
- Did the weak mid-line give way, as tunnies on whom the shark
- Precipitates his bulk? Did the right-wing halt when, stark
- On his heap of slain lay stretched Kallimachos Polemarch?
- Did the steady phalanx falter? To the rescue, at the need,
- The clown was ploughing Persia, clearing Greek earth of weed,
- As he routed through the Sakian and rooted up the Mede.

- But the deed done, battle won,—nowhere to be descried On the meadow, by the stream, at the marsh,—look far and wide
- From the foot of the mountain, no, to the last bloodplashed seaside,—
- Not anywhere on view blazed the large limbs thonged and brown,
- Shearing and clearing still with the share before which—down
- To the dust went Persia's pomp, as he ploughed for Greece, that clown!
- How spake the Oracle? "Care for no name at all!
 Say but just this: 'We praise one helpful whom we call
 The Holder of the Ploughshare.' The great deed ne'er grows small."
- Not the great name! Sing—woe for the great name Miltiadés
- And its end at Paros isle! Woe for Themistokles
- —Satrap in Sardis court! Name not the clown like these!

- I AND Clive were friends—and why not? Friends! I think you laugh, my lad.
- Clive it was gave England India, while your father gives —egad,
- England nothing but the graceless boy who lures him on to speak—
- "Well, Sir, you and Clive were comrades—" with a tongue thrust in your cheek!
- Very true: in my eyes, your eyes, all the world's eyes, Clive was man,
- I was, am and ever shall be—mouse, nay, mouse of all its clan
- Sorriest sample, if you take the kitchen's estimate for fame;
- While the man Clive—he fought Plassy, spoiled the clever foreign game,
- Conquered and annexed and Englished!

Never mind! As o'er my punch

(You away) I sit of evenings,—silence, save for biscuitcrunch,

- Black, unbroken,—thought grows busy, thrids each pathway of old years,
- Notes this forthright, that meander, till the long-past life appears
- Like an outspread map of country plodded through, each mile and rood,
- Once, and well remembered still: I'm startled in my solitude
- Ever and anon by—what's the sudden mocking light that breaks
- On me as I slap the table till no rummer-glass but shakes
- While I ask—aloud, I do believe, God help me!—" Was it thus?
- Can it be that so I faltered, stopped when just one step for us—"
- (Us,—you were not born, I grant, but surely some day born would be)
- "—One bold step had gained a province" (figurative talk, you see)
- "Got no end of wealth and honour,—yet I stood stock still no less?"
- -- "For I was not Clive," you comment: but it needs no Clive to guess

- Wealth were handy, honour ticklish, did no writing on the wall
- Warn me "Trespasser, 'ware man-traps!" Him who braves that notice—call
- Hero! none of such heroics suit myself who read plain words,
- Doff my hat, and leap no barrier. Scripture says the land 's the Lord's:
- Louts then—what avail the thousand, noisy in a smock-frocked ring,
- All-agog to have me trespass, clear the fence, be Clive their king?
- Higher warrant must you show me ere I set one foot before
- T'other in that dark direction, though I stand for evermore
- Poor as Job and meek as Moses. Evermore? No! By-and-by
- Job grows rich and Moses valiant, Clive turns out less wise than I.
- Don't object "Why call him friend, then?" Power is power, my boy, and still
- Marks a man,—God's gift magnific, exercised for good or ill.
- You've your boot now on my hearth-rug, tread what was a tiger's skin:

- Rarely such a royal monster as I lodged the bullet in!
- True, he murdered half a village, so his own death came to pass;
- Still, for size and beauty, cunning, courage—ah, the brute he was!
- Why, that Clive,—that youth, that greenhorn, that quill-driving clerk, in fine,—
- He sustained a siege in Arcot. . . But the world knows!

 Pass the wine.
- Where did I break off at? How bring Clive in? Oh, you mentioned "fear"!
- Just so: and, said I, that minds me of a story you shall hear.
- We were friends then, Clive and I: so, when the clouds, about the orb
- Late supreme, encroaching slowly, surely, threatened to absorb
- Ray by ray its noontide brilliance,—friendship might, with steadier eye
- Drawing near, bear what had burned else, now no blaze—all majesty.
- Too much bee's-wing floats my figure? Well, suppose a castle's new:

- None presume to climb its ramparts, none find foothold sure for shoe
- 'Twixt those squares and squares of granite plating the impervious pile
- As his scale-mail's warty iron cuirasses a crocodile.
- Reels that castle thunder-smitten, storm-dismantled?

 From without
- Scrambling up by crack and crevice, every cockney prates about
- Towers—the heaphe kicks now! turrets—just the measure of his cane!
- Will that do? Observe moreover—(same similitude again)—
- Such a castle seldom crumbles by sheer stress of cannonade:
- 'T is when foes are foiled and fighting's finished that vile rains invade,
- Grass o'ergrows, o'ergrows till night-birds congregating find no holes
- Fit to build in like the topmost sockets made for banner-poles.
- So Clive crumbled slow in London—crashed at last.

A week before,

Dining with him,—after trying churchyard-chat of days of yore,—

- Both of us stopped, tired as tombstones, head-piece, footpiece, when they lean
- Each to other, drowsed in fog-smoke, o'er a coffined Past between.
- As I saw his head sink heavy, guessed the soul's extinguishment
- By the glazing eyeball, noticed how the furtive fingers went
- Where a drug-box skulked behind the honest liquor,—
 "One more throw
- Try for Clive!" thought I: "Let's venture some good rattling question!" So—
- "Come, Clive, tell us "—out I blurted—"what to tell in turn, years hence,
- When my boy—suppose I have one—asks me on what evidence
- I maintain my friend of Plassy proved a warrior every whit
- Worth your Alexanders, Cæsars, Marlboroughs andwhat said Pitt?—
- Frederick the Fierce himself! Clive told me once "--I want to say---
- "Which feat out of all those famous doings bore the bell away
- —In his own calm estimation, mark you, not the mob's rough guess—

- Which stood foremost as evincing what Clive called courageousness!
- Come! what moment of the minute, what speck-centre in the wide
- Circle of the action saw your mortal fairly deified?
- (Let alone that filthy sleep-stuff, swallow bold this wholesome Port!)
- If a friend has leave to question,—when were you most brave, in short?"
- Up he arched his brows o' the instant—formidably Clive again.
- "When was I most brave? I'd answer, were the instance half as plain
- As another instance that's a brain-lodged crystal—curse it!—here
- Freezing when my memory touches—ugh!—the time I felt most fear.
- Ugh! I cannot say for certain if I showed fear—anyhow,
- Fear I felt, and, very likely, shuddered, since I shiver now."
- "Fear!" smiled I. "Well, that's the rarer: that's a specimen to seek,
- Ticket up in one's museum, Mind-Freaks, Lord Clive's Fear, Unique!"

Down his brows dropped. On the table painfully he pored as though

- Tracing, in the stains and streaks there, thoughts encrusted long ago.
- When he spoke 't was like a lawyer reading word by word some will,
- Some blind jungle of a statement,—beating on and on until
- Out there leaps fierce life to fight with.

"This fell in my factor-days.

- Desk-drudge, slaving at St. David's, one must game, or drink, or craze.
- I chose gaming: and, because your high-flown gamesters hardly take
- Umbrage at a factor's elbow if the factor pays his stake,—
 I was winked at in a circle where the company was choice,
- Captain This and Major That, men high of colour, loud of voice,
- Yet indulgent, condescending to the modest juvenile Who not merely risked but lost his hard-earned guineas with a smile.
- "Down I sat to cards, one evening,—had for my antagonist Somebody whose name's a secret—you'll know why so, if you list,

- Call him Cock o' the Walk, my scarlet son of Mars from head to heel!
- Play commenced: and, whether Cocky fancied that a clerk must feel
- Quite sufficient honour came of bending over one green baize,
- I the scribe with him the warrior,—guessed no penman dared to raise
- Shadow of objection should the honour stay but playing end
- More or less abruptly,—whether disinclined he grew to spend
- Practice strictly scientific on a booby born to stare
- At—not ask of—lace-and-ruffles if the hand they hide plays fair,—
- Anyhow, I marked a movement when he bade me 'Cut!'

"I rose.

'Such the new manœuvre, Captain? I'm a novice: knowledge grows.

What, you force a card, you cheat, Sir?'

"Never did a thunder-clap

Cause emotion, startle Thyrsis locked with Chloe in his lap,

As my word and gesture (down I flung my cards to join the pack)

Fired the man of arms, whose visage, simply red before, turned black.

- When he found his voice, he stammered 'That expression once again!'
- "'Well, you forced a card and cheated!'
 - "'Possibly a factor's brain,
- Busied with his all-important balance of accounts, may deem
- Weighing words superfluous trouble: cheat to clerkly ears may seem
- Just the joke for friends to venture: but we are not friends, you see!
- When a gentleman is joked with,—if he's good at repartee,
- He rejoins, as do I—Sirrah, on your knees, withdraw in full!
- Beg my pardon, or be sure a kindly bullet through your skull
- Lets in light and teaches manners to what brain it finds!

 Choose quick—
- Have your life snuffed out or, kneeling, pray me trim you candle-wick!'
- "'Well, you cheated!'

- "Then outbroke a howl from all the friends around.
- To his feet sprang each in fury, fists were clenched and teeth were ground.
- End it: no time like the present! Captain, yours were our disgrace!
- No delay, begin and finish! Stand back, leave the pair a space!
- Let civilians be instructed: henceforth simply ply the pen,
- Fly the sword! This clerk's no swordsman? Suit him with a pistol, then!
- Even odds! A dozen paces 'twixt the most and least expert
- Make a dwarf a giant's equal: nay, the dwarf, if he's alert,
- Likelier hits the broader target!'
 - "Up we stood accordingly.
- As they handed me the weapon, such was my soul's thirst to try
- Then and there conclusions with this bully, tread on and stamp out
- Every spark of his existence, that,—crept close to, curled about
- By that toying tempting teasing fool-forefinger's middle joint,—

- Don't you guess?—the trigger yielded. Gone my chance! and at the point
- Of such prime success moreover: scarce an inch above his head
- Went my ball to hit the wainscot. He was living, I was dead.
- "Up he marched in flaming triumph—'t was his right, mind!—up, within
- Just an arm's length. 'Now, my clerkling,' chuckled Cocky with a grin
- As the levelled piece quite touched me, 'Now, Sir Counting-House, repeat
- That expression which I told you proved bad manners!

 Did I cheat?'
- "'Cheat you did, you knew you cheated, and, this moment, know as well.
- As for me, my homely breeding bids you—fire and go to Hell!'
- "Twice the muzzle touched my forehead. Heavy barrel, flurried wrist,
- Either spoils a steady lifting. Thrice: then, 'Laugh at Hell who list,

- I can't! God's no fable either. Did this boy's eye wink once? No!
- There's no standing him and Hell and God all three against me,—so,
- I did cheat!'
 - "And down he threw the pistol, out rushed by the door
- Possibly, but, as for knowledge if by chimney, roof or floor,
- He effected disappearance—I'll engage no glance was sent
- That way by a single starer, such a blank astonishment Swallowed up their senses: as for speaking—mute they stood as mice.
- "Mute not long, though! Such reaction, such a hubbub in a trice!
- 'Rogue and rascal! Who'd have thought it? What's to be expected next,
- When His Majesty's Commission serves a sharper as pretext
- For . . . But where's the need of wasting time now? Nought requires delay:
- Punishment the Service cries for: let disgrace be wiped away

Publicly, in good broad daylight! Resignation? No, indeed

- Drum and fife must play the Rogue's March, rank and file be free to speed
- Tardy marching on the rogue's part by appliance in the rear

 —Kicks administered shall right this wronged civilian,— never fear,
- Mister Clive, for—though a clerk—you bore yourself—suppose we say—

Just as would be seem a soldier!'

" 'Gentlemen, attention-pray!

First, one word!'

"I passed each speaker severally in review.

- When I had precise their number, names and styles, and fully knew
- Over whom my supervision thenceforth must extend,—why, then—
- ""Some five minutes since, my life lay—as you all saw, gentlemen—
- At the mercy of your friend there. Not a single voice was raised
- In arrest of judgment, not one tongue—before my powder blazed—

- Ventured "Can it be the youngster blundered, really seemed to mark
- Some irregular proceeding? We conjecture in the dark, Guess at random,—still, for sake of fair play—what if for a freak,
- In a fit of absence,—such things have been!—if our friend proved weak
- —What's the phrase?—corrected fortune! Look into the case, at least!"
- Who dared interpose between the altar's victim and the priest?
- Yet he spared me! You eleven! Whosoever, all or each,
- To the disadvantage of the man who spared me, utters speech
- —To his face, behind his back,—that speaker has to do with me:
- Me who promise, if positions change and mine the chance should be,
- Not to imitate your friend and waive advantage!'

"Twenty-five

- Years ago this matter happened: and 't is certain," added Clive,
- "Never, to my knowledge, did Sir Cocky have a single breath

- Breathed against him: lips were closed throughout his life, or since his death,
- For if he be dead or living I can tell no more than you.
- All I know is—Cocky had one chance more; how he used it,—grew
- Out of such unlucky habits, or relapsed, and back again Brought the late-ejected devil with a score more in his
- Brought the late-ejected devil with a score more in his train,—
- That's for you to judge. Reprieval I procured, at any rate.
- Ugh—the memory of that minute's fear makes gooseflesh rise! Why prate
- Longer? You've my story, there's your instance: fear I did, you see!"
- "Well"—I hardly kept from laughing—"if I see it, thanks must be
- Wholly to your Lordsh.ps candour. Not that—in a common case—
- When a bully caught at cheating thrusts a pistol in one's face.
- I should underrate, believe me, such a trial to the nerve!
- "T is no joke, at one-and-twenty, for a youth to stand nor swerve.
- Fear I naturally look for-unless, of all men alive,

- I am forced to make exception when I come to Robert Clive.
- Since at Arcot, Plassy, elsewhere, he and death—the whole world knows—
- Came to somewhat closer quarters."
 - Quarters? Had we come to blows,
- Clive and I, you had not wondered—up he sprang so, out he rapped
- Such a round of oaths—no matter! I'll endeavour to adapt
- To our modern usage words he—well, 't was friendly licence—flung
- At me like so many fire-balls, fast as he could wag his tongue.
- "You—a soldier? You—at Plassy? Yours the faculty to nick
- Instantaneously occasion when your foe, if lightning-quick,
- —At his mercy, at his malice,—has you, through some stupid inch
- Undefended in your bulwark? Thus laid open,—not to flinch
- —That needs courage, you'll concede me. Then, look here! Suppose the man,

- Checking his advance, his weapon still extended, not a span
- Distant from my temple,—curse him!—quietly had bade me 'There!
- Keep your life, calumniator!—worthless life I freely spare:
- Mine you freely would have taken—murdered me and my good fame
- Both at once—and all the better! Go, and thank your own bad aim
- Which permits me to forgive you! What if, with such words as these,
- He had cast away his weapon? How should I have borne me, please?
- Nay, I'll spare you pains and tell you. This, and only this, remained—
- Pick his weapon up and use it on myself. I so had gained
- Sleep the earlier, leaving England probably to pay on still
- Rent and taxes for half India, tenant at the Frenchman's will."
- "Such the turn," said I, "the matter takes with you?

 Then I abate
- -No, by not one jot nor tittle, -of your act my estimate.

- Fear—I wish I could detect there: courage fronts me, plain enough—
- Call it desperation, madness—never mind! for here 's in rough
- Why, had mine been such a trial, fear had overcome disgrace.
- True, disgrace were hard to bear: but such a rush against God's face
- —None of that for me, Lord Plassy, since I go to church at times,
- Say the creed my mother taught me! Many years in foreign climes
- Rub some marks away—not all, though! We poor sinners reach life's brink,
- Overlook what rolls beneath it, recklessly enough, but think
- There's advantage in what's left us—ground to stand on, time to call
- 'Lord, have mercy!' ere we topple over—do not leap, that's all!"
- Oh, he made no answer,—re-absorbed into his cloud. I caught
- Something like "Yes—courage: only fools will call it fear."

If aught

CLIVE 107

- Comfort you, my great unhappy hero Clive, in that I heard,
- Next week, how your own hand dealt you doom, and uttered just the word
- "Fearfully courageous!"—this, be sure, and nothing clse I groaned.
- I'm no Clive, nor parson either: Clive's worst deed-we'll hope condoned.

MULÉ YKEH.

- If a stranger passed the tent of Hóseyn, he cried "A churl's!"
- Or haply "God help the man who has neither salt nor bread!"
- -" Nay," would a friend exclaim, "he needs nor pity nor scorn
- More than who spends small thought on the shore-sand, picking pearls,
- -Holds but in light esteem the seed-sort, bears instead
- On his breast a moon-like prize, some orb which of night makes morn.
- "What if no flocks and herds enrich the son of Sinán?
- They went when his tribe was mulct, ten thousand camels the due,
- Blood-value paid perforce for a murder done of old.
- 'God gave them, let them go! But never since time began,

Muléykeh, peerless mare, owned master the match of you, And you are my prize, my Pearl: I laugh at men's land and gold!"

"So in the pride of his soul laughs Hóseyn—and right, I say.

Do the ten steeds run a race of glory? Outstripping all, Ever Muléykeh stands first steed at the victor's staff.

Who started, the owner's hope, gets shamed and named, that day.

'Silence,' or, last but one, is 'The Cuffed,' as we use to call Whom the paddock's lord thrusts forth. Right, Hóseyn, I say, to laugh!"

"Boasts he Muléykeh the Pearl?" the stranger replies:
"Be sure

On him I waste nor scorn nor pity, but lavish both
On Duhl the son of Sheybán, who withers away in heart
For envy of Hóseyn's luck. Such sickness admits no cure.
A certain poet has sung, and sealed the same with an oath,
'For the vulgar—flocks and herds! The Pearl is a prize apart.'"

- Lo, Duhl the son of Sheybán comes riding to Hóseyn's tent,
- And he casts his saddle down, and enters and "Peace!" bids he.

- "You are poor, I know the cause: my plenty shall mend the wrong.
- 'T is said of your Pearl—the price of a hundred camels spent
- In her purchase were scarce ill paid: such prudence is far from me
- Who proffer a thousand. Speak! Long parley may last too long."
- Said Hóseyn "You feed young beasts a many, of famous .
 breed,
- Slit-eared, unblemished, fat, true offspring of Múzennem:
- There stumbles no weak-eyed she in the line as it climbs the hill.
- But I love Muléykeh's face: her forefront whitens indeed Like a yellowish wave's cream-crest. Your camels—go gaze on them!
- Her fetlock is foam-splashed too. Myself am the richer still."
- A year goes by: lo, back to the tent again rides Duhl.
- "You are open-hearted, ay-moist-handed, a very prince.
- Why should I speak of sale? Be the mare your simple gift!
- My son is pined to death for her beauty: my wife prompts 'Fool,

- Beg for his sake the Pearl! Be God the rewarder, since God pays debts seven for one: who squanders on Him shows thrift."
- Said Hóseyn "God gives each man one life, like a lamp, then gives
- That lamp due measure of oil: lamp lighted—hold high, wave wide
- Its comfort for others to share! once quench it, what help is left?
- The oil of your lamp is your son: I shine while Muléykeh lives.
- Would I beg your son to cheer my dark if Muléykeh died? It is life against life: what good avails to the life-bereft?"
- Another year, and—hist! What craft is it Duhl designs? He alights not at the door of the tent as he did last time, But, creeping behind, he gropes his stealthy way by the trench
- Half-round till he finds the flap in the folding, for night combines
- With the robber—and such is he: Duhl, covetous up to crime,
- Must wring from Hóseyn's grasp the Pearl, by whatever the wrench.

- "He was hunger-bitten, I heard: I tempted with half my store,
- And a gibe was all my thanks. Is he generous like Spring dew?
- Account the fault to me who chaffered with such an one! He has killed, to feast chance comers, the creature he rode: nay, more—
- For a couple of singing-girls his robe has he torn in two: I will beg! Yet I nowise gained by the tale of my wife and son.
- "I swear by the Holy House, my head will I never wash Till I filch his Pearl away. Fair dealing I tried, then guile,
- And now I resort to force. He said we must live or die:

 Let him die, then,—let me live! Be bold—but not too rash!
- I have found me a peeping-place: breast, bury your breathing while
- I explore for myself! Now, breathe! He deceived me not, the spy!
- "As he said—there lies in peace Hóseyn—how happy!

 Beside
- Stands tethered the Pearl: thrice winds her headstall about his wrist:

- 'T is therefore he sleeps so sound—the moon through the roof reveals.
- And, loose on his left, stands too that other, known far and wide,
- Buhéyseh, her sister born: fleet is she yet ever missed The winning tail's fire-flash a-stream past the thunderous heels.
- "No less she stands saddled and bridled, this second, in case some thief
- Should enter and seize and fly with the first, as I mean to do.
- What then? The Pearl is the Pearl: once mount her we both escape."
- Through the skirt-fold in glides Duhl,—so a serpent disturbs no leaf
- In a bush as he parts the twigs entwining a nest: clean through,
- He is noiselessly at his work: as he planned, he performs the rape.
- He has set the tent-door wide, has buckled the girth, has clipped
- The headstall away from the wrist he leaves thrice bound as before,

XV.

- He springs on the Pearl, is launched on the desert like bolt from bow.
- Up starts our plundered man: from his breast though the heart be ripped,
- Yet his mind has the mastery: behold, in a minute more,
- He is out and off and away on Buhéyseh, whose worth we know!
- And Hóseyn—his blood turns flame, he has learned long since to ride,
- And Buhéysch does her part,—they gain they are gaining fast
- On the fugitive pair, and Duhl has Ed-Dárraj to cross and quit,
- And to reach the ridge El-Sabán,—no safety till that be spied!
- And Buhéyseh is, bound by bound, but a horse-length off at last,
- For the Pearl has missed the tap of the heel, the touch of the bit.
- She shortens her stride, she chases at her rider the strange and queer:
- Buhéyseh is mad with hope—beat sister she shall and must

- Though Duhl, of the hand and heel so clumsy, she has to thank.
- She is near now, nose by tail—they are neck by croup—joy! fear!
- What folly makes Hóseyn shout "Dog Duhl, Damned son of the Dust,
- Touch the right ear and press with your foot my Pearl's left flank!"
- And Duhl was wise at the word, and Muléykeh as prompt perceived
- Who was urging redoubled pace, and to hear him was to obey,
- And a leap indeed gave she, and evanished for evermore.
- And Hóseyn looked one long last look as who, all bereaved,
- Looks, fain to follow the dead so far as the living may:
- Then he turned Buhéyseh's neck slow homeward, weeping sore.
- And, lo, in the sunrise, still sat Hóseyn upon the ground Weeping: and neighbours came, the tribesmen of Bénu-Asád
- In the vale of green Er-Rass, and they questioned him of his grief;

- And he told from first to last how, serpent-like, Duhl had wound
- His way to the nest, and how Duhl rode like an apc, so bad!
- And how Buhéyseh did wonders, yet Pearl remained with the thief.
- And they jeered him, one and all: "Poor Hóseyn is crazed past hope!
- How else had he wrought himself his ruin, in fortune's spite?
- To have simply held the tongue were a task for a boy or girl,
- And here were Muléykeh again, the eyed like an antelope,
- The child of his heart by day, the wife of his breast by night!"—
- "And the beaten in speed!" wept Hóseyn: "You never have loved my Pearl."

PIETRO OF ABANO.

Petrus Aponensis-there was a magician!

When that strange adventure happened, which I mean to tell my hearers,

Nearly had he tried all trades—beside physician,

Architect, astronomer, astrologer,—or worse:

How else, as the old books warrant, was he able,

All at once, through all the world, to prove the promptest of appearers

Where was prince to cure, tower to build as high as Babel,

Star to name or sky-sign read,—yet pouch, for pains, a curse?

—Curse: for when a vagrant,—foot-sore, travel-tattered, Now a young man, now an old man, Turk or Arab, Jew or Gipsy,—

Proffered folk in passing—O for pay, what mattered?—
"I'll be doctor, I'll play builder, star I'll name—sign read!"

- Soon as prince was cured, tower built, and fate predicted,
- "Who may you be?" came the question, when he answered "Petrus ipse,"
- "Just as we divined!" cried folk—"A wretch convicted
- Long ago of dealing with the devil-you indeed!"
- So, they cursed him roundly, all his labour's payment,

 Motioned him—the convalescent prince would—to vacate the presence:
- Babylonians plucked his beard and tore his raiment,
 Drove him from that tower he built: while, had he peered at stars,
- Town howled "Stone the quack who styles our Dog-star
 —Sirius!"
- Country yelled "Aroint the churl who prophesies we take no pleasance
- Under vine and fig-tree, since the year's delirious,

 Bears no crop of any kind,—all through the planet

 Mars!"
- Straightway would the whilom youngster grow a grisard, Or, as case might hap, the hoary eld drop off and show a stripling.
- Town and country groaned—indebted to a wizard!

"Curse—nay, kick and cuff him—fit requital of his pains! Gratitude in word or deed were wasted truly!

Rather make the Church amends by crying out on, cramping, crippling

One who, on pretence of serving man, serves duly Man's arch foe: not ours, be sure, but Satan's—his the gains!"

Peter grinned and bore it, such disgraceful usage:
Somehow, cuffs and kicks and curses seem ordained his like to suffer:

Prophet's pay with Christians, now as in the Jews' age,
Still is—stoning: so, he meekly took his wage and went,
—Safe again was found ensconced in those old quarters,
Padua's blackest blindest by-street,—none the worse,
nay, somewhat tougher:

"Calculating," quoth he, "soon I join the martyrs, Since, who magnify my lore on burning me are bent."*

> "Studiando le mie cifre col compasso, Rilevo che sarò presto sotterra, Perchè del mio saper si fa gran chiasso, E gl' ignoranti m' hanno mosso guerra."

Said to have been found in a well at Abano in the last century. They were extemporaneously Englished thus: not as Father Prout chose to prefer them:—

Studying my ciphers with the compass,
I reckon—I soon shall be below-ground;
Because of my lore folk make great rumpus,
And war on myself makes each dull rogue round.

Therefore, on a certain evening, to his alley Peter slunk, all bruised and broken, sore in body, sick in spirit.

Just escaped from Cairo where he launched a galley Needing neither sails nor oars nor help of wind or tide, —Needing but the fume of fire to set a-flying Wheels like mad which whirled you quick—North, South, where'er you pleased require it,—

That is—would have done so had not priests come prying,

Broke his engine up and bastinadoed him beside.

As he reached his lodging, stopped there unmolested, (Neighbours feared him, urchins fled him, few were bold enough to follow)

While his fumbling fingers tried the lock and tested
Once again the queer key's virtue, oped the sullen door,— Someone plucked his sleeve, cried "Master, pray your pardon!

Grant a word to me who patient wait you in your archway's hollow!

Hard on you men's hearts are: be not your heart hard on Me who kiss your garment's hem, O Lord of magic lore!

[&]quot;Mage-say I, who no less, scorning tittle-tattle,

To the vulgar give no credence when they prate of Peter's magic,

Deem his art brews tempest, hurts the crops and cattle, Hinders fowls from laying eggs and worms from spinning silk,

Rides upon a he-goat, mounts at need a broomstick:

While the price he pays for this (so turns to comic what was tragic)

Is—he may not drink—dreads like the Day of Doom's tick—

One poor drop of sustenance ordained mere men—that 's milk!

"Tell such tales to Padua! Think me no such dullard! Not from these benighted parts did I derive my breath and being!

I am from a land whose cloudless skies are coloured Livelier, suns orb largelier, airs seem incense,—while, on earth—

What, instead of grass, our fingers and our thumbs cull, Proves true moly! sounds and sights there help the body's hearing, seeing,

Till the soul grows godlike: brief,—you front no numbscull Shaming by ineptitude the Greece that gave him birth!

"Mark within my eye its iris mystic-lettered-

That's my name! and note my ear—its swan-shaped cavity, my emblem!

Mine's the swan-like nature born to fly unfettered

Over land and sea in search of knowledge—food for song.

Art denied the vulgar! Geese grow fat on barley,

Swans require ethereal provend, undesirous to resemble 'em—

Soar to seek Apollo,-favoured with a parley

Such as, Master, you grant me—who will not hold you long.

"Leave to learn to sing—for that your swan petitions:

Master, who possess the secret, say not nay to such a suitor!

All I ask is—bless mine, purest of ambitions!

Grant me leave to make my kind wise, free, and happy!

How?

Just by making me—as you are mine—their model!

Geese have goose-thoughts: make a swan their teacher first, then co-adjutor,—

Let him introduce swan-notions to each noddle,-

Geese will soon grow swans, and men become what I am now!

"That's the only magic—had but fools discernment,

Could they probe and pass into the solid through the soft and seeming!

Teach me such true magic—now and no adjournment!

Teach your art of making fools subserve the man of mind!

Magic is the power we men of mind should practise,
Draw fools to become our drudges, docile henceforth, never dreaming—

While they do our hests for fancied gain—the fact is What they toil and moil to get proves falsehood: truth 's behind!

"See now! you conceive some fabric—say, a mansion Meet for monarch's pride and pleasure: this is truth—a thought has fired you,

Made you fain to give some cramped concept expansion, Put your faculty to proof, fulfil your nature's task.

First you fascinate the monarch's self: he fancies

He it was devised the scheme you execute as he inspired you:

He in turn sets slaving insignificances

Toiling, moiling till your structure stands there—all you ask!

"Soon the monarch's known for what he was—a ninny:

Soon the rabble-rout leave labour, take their work-day wage and vanish:

Soon the late puffed bladder, pricked, shows lank and skinny—

'Who was its inflator?' ask we, 'whose the giant lungs?'

Petri en pulmones! What though men prove ingrates?

Let them—so they stop at crucifixion—buffet, ban and banish!

Peter's power's apparent: human praise—its din grates Harsh as blame on ear unused to aught save angels' tongues.

"Ay, there have been always, since our world existed, Mages who possessed the secret—needed but to stand still, fix eye

On the foolish mortal: straight was he enlisted
Soldier, scholar, servant, slave—no matter for the style!
Only through illusion; ever what seemed profit—
Love or lucre—justified obedience to the Ipse dixi:
Work done—palace reared from pavement up to soffit—
Was it strange if builders smelt out cheating all the while?

"Let them pelt and pound, bruise, bray you in a mortar! What 's the odds to you who seek reward of quite another nature?

- You've enrolled your name where sages of your sort are.
- -Michael of Constantinople, Hans of Halberstadt!
- Nay and were you nameless, still you've your conviction
- You it was and only you—what signifies the nomenclature?—
- Ruled the world in fact, though how you ruled be fiction
- Fit for fools: true wisdom's magic you—if e'er man—had't!
- "But perhaps you ask me 'Since each ignoramus
- While he profits by such magic persecutes the benefactor,
- What should I expect but—once I render famous
- You as Michael, Hans and Peter—just one ingrate more?
- If the vulgar prove thus, whatsoe'er the pelf be,
- Pouched through my beneficence—and doom me dungeoned, chained, or racked, or
- Fairly burned outright—how grateful will yourself be
- When, his secret gained, you match your—master just before?'

[&]quot;That's where I await you! Please, revert a little!

What do folk report about you if not this—which, though chimeric,

Still, as figurative, suits you to a tittle-

That,—although the elements obey your nod and wink,

Fades or flowers the herb you chance to smile or sigh at, While your frown bids earth quake palled by obscuration atmospheric,—

Brief, although through nature nought resists your fiat,

There's yet one poor substance mocks you—milk you may not drink!

"Figurative language! Take my explanation!

Fame with fear, and hate with homage, these your art procures in plenty.

All 's but daily dry bread: what makes moist the ration? Love, the milk that sweetens man his meal—alas, you lack:

I am he who, since he fears you not, can love you.

Love is born of heart not mind, de corde natus haud de mente;

Touch my heart and love's yours, sure as shines above you

Sun by day and star by night though earth should go to wrack!

"Stage by stage you lift me-kiss by kiss I hallow

Whose but your dear hand my helper, punctual as at each new impulse

I approach my aim? Shell chipped, the eaglet callow Needs a parent's pinion-push to quit the eyrie's edge:

But once fairly launched forth, denizen of æther,

While each effort sunward bids the blood more freely through each limb pulse,

Sure the parent feels, as gay they soar together, Fully are all pains repaid when love redeems its pledge!"

Then did Peter's tristful visage lighten somewhat,

Vent a watery smile as though inveterate mistrust were thawing.

"Well, who knows?" he slow broke silence. "Mortals—come what

Come there may—are still the dupes of hope there's luck in store.

Many scholars seek me, promise mounts and marvels:

Here stand I to witness how they step 'twixt me and clapperclawing!

Dry bread,—that I 've gained me: truly I should starve else:

But of milk, no drop was mine! Well, shuffle cards once more!"

At the word of promise thus implied, our stranger-

- What can he but cast his arms, in rapture of embrace, round Peter?
- "Hold! I choke!" the mage grunts. "Shall I in the manger
- Any longer play the dog? Approach, my calf, and feed! Bene . . . won't you wait for grace?" But sudden
- Bene . . . won't you wait for grace?" But sudden incense
- Wool-white, serpent-solid, curled up—perfume growing sweet and sweeter
- Till it reached the young man's nose and seemed to win sense
- Soul and all from out his brain through nostril: yes, indeed!
- Presently the young man rubbed his eyes. "Where am I? Too much bother over books! Some reverie has proved amusing.
- What did Peter prate of? 'Faith, my brow is clammy!
- How my head throbs, how my heart thumps! Can it be I swooned?
- Oh, I spoke my speech out—cribbed from Plato's tractate,
- Dosed him with 'the Fair and Good,' swore—Dog of Egypt—I was choosing
- Plato's way to serve men! What's the hour? Exact eight!

Home now, and to-morrow never mind how Plato mooned!

"Peter has the secret! Fair and Good are products (So he said) of Foul and Evil: one must bring to pass the other.

Just as poisons grow drugs, steal through sundry odd ducts Doctors name, and ultimately issue safe and changed. You'd abolish poisons, treat disease with dainties Such as suit the sound and sane? With all such kickshaws vain you pother!

Arsenic's the stuff puts force into the faint eyes,

Opium sets the brain to rights—by cark and care deranged.

"What, he's safe within door?—would escape—no question—

Thanks, since thanks and more I owe, and mean to pay in time befitting.

What most presses now is—after night's digestion, Peter, of thy precepts!—promptest practice of the same.

Let me see! The wise man, first of all, scorns riches:

But to scorn them must obtain them: none believes in his permitting

Gold to lie ungathered: who picks up, then pitches Gold away—philosophizes: none disputes his claim.

"So with worldly honours: 't is by abdicating,

Incontestably he proves he could have kept the crown discarded.

Sulla cuts a figure, leaving off dictating:

Simpletons laud private life? 'The grapes are sour,' laugh we.

So, again—but why continue? All's tumultuous

Here: my head's a-whirl with knowledge. Speedily shall be rewarded

He who taught me! Greeks prove ingrates? So insult you us?

When your teaching bears its first-fruits, Peter—wait and see!"

As the word, the deed proved; ere a brief year's passage,

Fop—that fool he made the jokes on—now he made the jokes for, gratis:

Hunks—that hoarder, long left lonely in his crass age— Found now one appreciative deferential friend:

Powder-paint-and-patch, Hag Jezebel-recovered,

Strange to say, the power to please, got courtship till she cried Jam satis!

Fop be-flattered, Hunks be-friended, Hag be-lovered—Nobody o'erlooked, save God—he soon attained his end.

As he lounged at ease one morning in his villa,

(Hag's the dowry) estimated (Hunks' bequest) his coin in coffer,

Mused on how a fool's good word (Fop's word) could fill a Social circle with his praise, promote him man of mark,—

All at once—"An old friend fain would see your Highness!"

There stood Peter, skeleton and scarecrow, plain writ Phi-lo-so-pher

In the woe-worn face—for yellowness and dryness,

Parchment—with a pair of eyes—one hope their feeble spark.

"Did I counsel rightly? Have you, in accordance,

Prospered greatly, dear my pupil? Sure, at just the stage I find you,

When your hand may draw me forth from the mad wardance

Savages are leading round your master—down, not dead.

Padua wants to burn me: baulk them, let me linger

Life out—rueful though its remnant—hid in some safe hole behind you!

Prostrate here I lie: quick, help with but a finger

Lest I house in safety's self—a tombstone o'er my head!

"Lodging, bite and sup, with-now and then-a copper

—Alms for any poorer still, if such there be,—is all my asking.

Take me for your bedesman,—nay, if you think proper, Menial merely,—such my perfect passion for repose!

Yes, from out your plenty Peter craves a pittance

—Leave to thaw his frozen hands before the fire whereat you're basking!

Double though your debt were, grant this boon—remittance

He proclaims of obligation: 't is himself that owes!"

"Venerated Master-can it be, such treatment

Learning meets with, magic fails to guard you from, by all appearance?

Strange! for, as you entered,—what the famous feat meant,

I was full of, — why you reared that fabric, Padua's boast.

Nowise for man's pride, man's pleasure, did you slyly

Raise it, but man's seat of rule whereby the world should soon have clearance

(Happy world) from such a rout as now so vilely

Handles you—and hampers me, for which I grieve the most.

"Since if it got wind you now were my familiar,

- How could I protect you—nay, defend myself against the rabble?
- Wait until the mob, now masters, willy-nilly are
- Servants as they should be: then has gratitude full play!
- Surely this experience shows how unbefitting
- 'T is that minds like mine should rot in ease and plenty.

 Geese may gabble.
- Gorge, and keep the ground: but swans are soon for quitting
- Earthly fare—as fain would I, your swan, if taught the way.
- "Teach me, then, to rule men, have them at my pleasure!
- Solely for their good, of course,—impart a secret worth rewarding,
- Since the proper life's-prize! Tantalus's treasure
- Aught beside proves, vanishes and leaves no trace at all.
- Wait awhile, nor press for payment prematurely!
- Over-haste defrauds you. Thanks! since,—even while I speak,—discarding
- Sloth and vain delights, I learn how—swiftly, surely—
- Magic sways the sceptre, wears the crown and wield the ball!
- "Gone again—what, is he? 'Faith, he's soon disposed of!

Peter's precepts work already, put within my lump their leaven!

Ay, we needs must don glove would we pluck the rose—doff

Silken garment would we climb the tree and take its fruit.

Why sharp thorn, rough rind? To keep unviolated

Either prize! We garland us, we mount from earth to feast in heaven,

Just because exist what once we estimated

Hindrances which, better taught, as helps we now compute.

"Foolishly I turned disgusted from my fellows!

Pits of ignorance—to fill, and heaps of prejudice—to level—

Multitudes in motley, whites and blacks and yellows—What a hopeless task it seemed to discipline the host!

Now I see my error. Vices act like virtues

—Not alone because they guard—sharp thorns—the rose we first dishevel,

Not because they scrape, scratch—rough rind—through the dirt-shoes

Bare feet cling to bole with, while the half-mooned boot we boast.

"No, my aim is nobler, more disinterested!

Man shall keep what seemed to thwart him, since it proves his true assistance,

Leads to ascertaining which head is the best head,

Would he crown his body, rule its members—lawless else.

Ignorant the horse stares, by deficient vision

Takes a man to be a monster, lets him mount, then, twice the distance

Horse could trot unridden, gallops—dream Elysian!—

Dreaming that his dwarfish guide's a giant,—jockeys tell's."

Brief, so worked the spell, he promptly had a riddance:

Heart and brain no longer felt the pricks which passed for conscience-scruples:

Free henceforth his feet, — Per Bacco, how they did dance

Merrily through lets and checks that stopped the way before!

Politics the prize now,—such adroit adviser,

Opportune suggester, with the tact that triples and quadruples

Merit in each measure,-never did the Kaiser

Boast a subject such a statesman, friend, and something more!

As he, up and down, one noonday, paced his closet

—Council o'er, each spark (his hint) blown flame, by colleagues' breath applauded,

Strokes of statecraft hailed with "Salomo si vosset!"

(His the nostrum)—every throw for luck come double-six,—

As he, pacing, hugged himself in satisfaction,

Thump—the door went. "What, the Kaiser? By none else were I defrauded

Thus of well-earned solace. Since 't is fate's exaction,—

Enter, Liege my Lord! Ha, Peter, you here? Teneor vix!"

"Ah, Sir, none the less, contain you, nor wax irate!
You so lofty, I so lowly,—vast the space which yawns between us!

Still, methinks, you—more than ever—at a high rate Needs must prize poor Peter's secret since it lifts you thus.

Grant me now the boon whereat before you boggled!

Ten long years your march has moved—one triumph— (though e's short)—hactēnus,

While I down and down disastrously have joggled Till I pitch against Death's door, the true Nec Ultra Plus.

"Years ago—some ten 't is—since I sought for shelter, Craved in your whole house a closet, out of all your means a comfort. Now you soar above these: as is gold to spelter

So is power—you urged with reason—paramount to wealth.

Power you boast in plenty: let it grant me refuge!

Houseroom now is out of question: find for me some stronghold—some fort—

Privacy wherein, immured, shall this blind deaf huge Monster of a mob let stay the soul I'd save by stealth!

"Ay, for all too much with magic have I tampered!

—Lost the world, and gained, I fear, a certain place I'm to describe loth!

Still, if prayer and fasting tame the pride long pampered,

Mercy may be mine: amendment never comes too late.

How can I amend beset by cursers, kickers?

Pluck this brand from out the burning! Once away, I take my Bible-oath,

Never more—so long as life's weak lamp-flame flickers— No, not once I'll tease you, but in silence bear my fate!"

"Gently, good my Genius, Oracle unerring!

Strange now! can you guess on what—as in you peeped—it was I pondered?

You and I are both of one mind in preferring

Power to wealth, but—here's the point—what sort of power, I ask?

Ruling men is vulgar, easy and ignoble:

Rid yourself of conscience, quick you have at beck and call the fond herd.

But who wields the crozier, down may fling the crow-bill: That's the power I covet now; soul's sway o'er souls—my task!

"'Well but,' you object, 'you have it, who by glamour Dress up lies to look like truths, mask folly in the garb of reason:

Your soul acts on theirs, sure, when the people clamour Hold their peace, now fight now fondle,—earwigged through the brains.'

Possibly! but still the operation's mundane,

Grosser than a taste demands which—craving manna—kecks at peason—

Power o'er men by wants material: why should one deign Rule by sordid hopes and fears—a grunt for all one's pains?

"No, if men must praise me, let them praise to purpose! Would we move the world, not earth but heaven must be our fulcrum—pou sto!

Thus I seek to move it: Master, why interpose—Baulk my climbing close on what 's the ladder's topmost round?

- Statecraft 't is I step from: when by priestcraft hoisted Up to where my foot may touch the highest rung which fate allows toe,
- Then indeed ask favour! On you shall be foisted No excuse: I'll pay my debt, each penny of the pound!
- "Ho, my knaves without there! Lead this worthy downstairs!
- No farewell, good Paul—nay, Peter—what's your name remembered rightly?
- Come, he's humble: out another would have flounced—airs
- Suitors often give themselves when our sort bow them forth.
- Did I touch his rags? He surely kept his distance:
- Yet, there somehow passed to me from him—where'er the virtue might lie—
- Something that inspires my soul—Oh, by assistance
- Doubtlessly of Peter!—still, he's worth just what he's worth!
- "'T is my own soul soars now: soaring—how? By crawling!
- I'll to Rome, before Rome's feet the temporal-supreme lay prostrate!
 - Hands' (I'll say) 'proficient once in pulling, hauling

This and that way men as I was minded—feet now clasp!'

Ay, the Kaiser's self has wrung them in his fervour!

Now—they only sue to slave for Rome, nor at one doit the cost rate.

Rome's adopted child—no bone, no muscle, nerve or Sinew of me but I'll strain, though out my life I gasp!"

As he stood one evening proudly—(he had traversed Rome on horseback—peerless pageant !—claimed the Lateran as new Pope)—

Thinking "All's attained now! Pontiff! Who could have erst

Dreamed of my advance so far when, some ten years ago,

I embraced devotion, grew from priest to bishop,

Gained the Purple, bribed the Conclave, got the Twothirds, saw my coop ope,

Came out—what Rome hails me! O were there a wish-shop,

Not one wish more would I purchase-lord of all below!

"Ha!-who dares intrude now-puts aside the arras?

What, old Peter, here again, at such a time, in such a presence?

Satan sends this plague back merely to embarrass

Me who enter on my office—little needing you!

'Faith, I'm touched myself by age, but you look Tithon!

Were it vain to seek of you the sole prize left—rejuvenescence?

Well, since flesh is grass which Time must lay his scythe on,

Say your say and so depart and make no more ado!"

Peter faltered—coughing first by way of prologue—
"Holiness, your help comes late: a death at ninety little matters.

Padua, build poor Peter's pyre now, on log roll log, Burn away—I 've lived my day! Yet here's the sting in death—

I 've an author's pride: I want my Book's survival:

See, I've hid it in my breast to warm me mid the rags and tatters!

Save it—tell next age your Master had no rival!

Scholar's debt discharged in full, be 'Thanks' my latest breath!"

"Faugh, the frowsy bundle—scribblings harum-scarum Scattered o'er a dozen sheepskins! What's the name of this farrago?

Ha-' Conciliator Differentiarum'-

- Man and book may burn together, cause the world no loss!
- Stop-what else? A tractate-eh, 'De Speciebus
- Ceremonialis Ma-gi-æ?' I dream sure! Hence, away, go,
- Wizard,—quick avoid me! Vain you clasp my knee, buss
- Hand that bears the Fisher's ring or foot that boasts the Cross!
- "Help! The old magician clings like an octopus!
- Ah, you rise now—fuming, fretting, frowning, if I read your features!
- Frown, who cares? We're Pope—once Pope, you can't unpope us!
- Good—you muster up a smile: that 's better! Still so brisk?
- All at once grown youthful? But the case is plain!

 Ass—
- Here I dally with the fiend, yet know the Word—compels all creatures
- Earthly, heavenly, hellish. Apage, Sathanas
- Dicam verbum Salomonis—" "—dicite!" When—whisk!—
- What was changed? The stranger gave his eyes a rubbing:

- There smiled Peter's face turned back a moment at him o'er the shoulder,
- As the black door shut, bang! "So he 'scapes a drubbing!"
- (Quoth a boy who, unespied, had stopped to hear the talk).
- "That's the way to thank these wizards when they bid men
- Benedicite! What ails you? You, a man, and yet no bolder?
- Foreign Sir, you look but foolish!" "Idmen, idmen!"
- Groaned the Greek. "O Peter, cheese at last I know from chalk!"
- Peter lived his life out, menaced yet no martyr,
- Knew himself the mighty man he was—such knowledge all his guerdon,
- Left the world a big book-people but in part err
- When they style a true Scientiæ Com-pen-di-um:
- "Admirationem incutit" they sourly
- Smile, as fast they shut the folio which myself was somehow spurred on
- Once to ope: but love life's milk which daily, hourly,
- Blockheads lap—O Peter, still thy taste of love's to come!

Greek, was your ambition likewise doomed to failure?

True, I find no record you wore purple, walked with axe and fasces,

Played some antipope's part: still, friend, don't turn tail, you 're

Certain, with but these two gifts, to gain earth's prize in time!

Cleverness uncurbed by conscience—if you ransacked Peter's book you'd find no potent spell like these to rule the masses;

Nor should want example, had I not to transact

Other business. Go your ways, you'll thrive! So ends my rhyme.

When these parts Tiberius,—not yet Cæsar,—travelled, Passing Padua, he consulted Padua's Oracle of Geryon (God three-headed, thrice wise) just to get unravelled Certain tangles of his future. "Fling at Abano Golden dice," it answered: "dropt within the fount there, Note what sum the pips present!" And still we see each die, the very one,

Turn up, through the crystal,—read the whole account there

Where 't is told by Suetonius,—each its highest throw.

Scarce the sportive fancy-dice I fling show "Venus:"
Still—for love of that dear land which I so oft in dreams revisit—

I have—oh, not sung! but lilted (as—between us—Grows my lazy custom) this its legend. What the lilt?

DOCTOR ----

A RABBI told me: On the day allowed Satan for carping at God's rule, he came, Fresh from our earth, to brave the angel-crowd.

- "What is the fault now?" "This I find to blame:
 Many and various are the tongues below,
 Yet all agree in one speech, all proclaim
- "'' Hell has no might to match what earth can show: Death is the strongest-born of Hell, and yet Stronger than Death is a Bad Wife, we know.'
- "Is it a wonder if I fume and fret— Robbed of my rights, since Death am I, and mine The style of Strongest? Men pay Nature's debt
- "Because they must at my demand; decline To pay it henceforth surely men will please, Provided husbands with bad wives combine

"To baffle Death. Judge between me and these!"
"Thyself shalt judge. Descend to earth in shape
Of mortal, marry, drain from froth to lees

"The bitter draught, then see if thou escape Concluding, with men sorrowful and sage, A Bad Wife's strength Death's self in vain would ape!"

How Satan entered on his pilgrimage, Conformed himself to earthly ordinance, Wived and played husband well from youth to age

Intrepidly—I leave untold, advance
Through many a married year until I reach
A day when—of his father's countenance

The very image, like him too in speech
As well as thought and deed,—the union's fruit Attained maturity. "I needs must teach

"My son a trade: but trade, such son to suit, Needs seeking after. He a man of war? Too cowardly! A lawyer wins repute—

"Having to toil and moil, though—both which are Beyond this sluggard. There's Divinity: No, that's my own bread-winner—that be far

- "From my poor offspring! Physic? Ha, we'll try If this be practicable. Where's my wit? Asleep?—since, now I come to think. . . . Ay, ay!
- "Hither, my son! Exactly have I hit On a profession for thee. Medicus— Behold, thou art appointed! Yea, I spit
- "Upon thine eyes, bestow a virtue thus That henceforth not this human form I wear Shalt thou perceive alone, but—one of us
- "By privilege—thy fleshly sight shall bear Me in my spirit-person as I walk The world and take my prey appointed there.
- "Doctor once dubbed—what ignorance shall baulk Thy march triumphant? Diagnose the gout As cholic, and prescribe it cheese for chalk—
- "No matter! All's one: cure shall come about And win thee wealth—fees paid with such a roar Of thanks and praise alike from lord and lout
- "As never stunned man's ears on earth before.
- 'How may this be?' Why, that 's my sceptic! Soon Truth will corrupt thee, soon thou doubt'st no more!

- "Why is it I bestow on thee the boon Of recognizing me the while I go Invisibly among men, morning, noon
- "And night, from house to house, and—quick or slow— Take my appointed prey? They summon thee For help, suppose: obey the summons! so!
- "Enter, look round! Where 's Death? Know—I am he, Satan who work all evil: I who bring Pain to the patient in whate'er degree.
- "I, then, am there: first glance thine eye shall fling Will find me—whether distant or at hand,
 As I am free to do my spiriting.
- "At such mere first glance thou shalt understand Wherefore I reach no higher up the room Than door or window, when my form is scanned.
- "Howe'er friends' faces please to gather gloom, Bent o'er the sick,—howe'er himself desponds,— In such case Death is not the sufferer's doom.
- "Contrariwise, do friends rejoice my bonds

 Are broken, does the captive in his turn

 Crow 'Life shall conquer'? Nip these foolish fronds

"Of hope a-sprout, if haply thou discern

Me at the head—my victim's head, be sure!

Forth now! This taught thee, little clse to learn!"

And forth he went. Folk heard him ask demure "How do you style this ailment? (There he peeps, My father, through the arras!) Sirs, the cure

"Is plain as A. B. C.! Experience steeps Blossoms of pennyroyal half an hour In sherris. Sumat!—Lo, how sound he sleeps—

"The subject you presumed was past the power Of Galen to relieve!" Or else "How's this? Why call for help so tardily? Clouds lour

"Portentously indeed, Sirs! (Nought's amiss: He's at the bed-foot merely.) Still, the storm May pass averted—not by quacks, I wis

"Like you, my masters! You, forsooth, perform A miracle? Stand, sciolists, aside! Blood, ne'er so cold, at ignorance grows warm!"

Which boasting by result was justified, Big as might words be: whether drugged or left Drugless, the patient always lived, not died. Great the heir's gratitude, so nigh bereft Of all he prized in this world: sweet the smile Of disconcerted rivals: "Cure?—say, theft

"From Nature in despite of Art—so style
This off-hand kill-or-cure work! You did much,
I had done more: folk cannot wait awhile!"

But did the case change? was it—"Scarcely such The symptoms as to warrant our recourse To your skill, Doctor! Yet since just a touch

"Of pulse, a taste of breath, has all the force With you of long investigation claimed By others,—tracks an ailment to its source

"Intuitively,—may we ask unblamed
What from this pimple you prognosticate?"
"Death!" was the answer, as he saw and named

The coucher by the sick man's head. "Too late You send for my assistance. I am bold Only by Nature's leave, and bow to Fate!

"Besides, you have my rivals: lavish gold! How comfortably quick shall life depart Cosseted by attentions manifold! "One day, one hour ago, perchance my art Had done some service. Since you have yourselves Chosen—before the horse—to put the cart,

"Why, Sirs, the sooner that the sexton delves
Your patient's grave, the better! How you stare —Shallow, for all the deep books on your shelves!

"Fare you well, fumblers!" Do I need declare What name and fame, what riches recompensed The Doctor's practice? Never anywhere

Such an adept as daily evidenced

Each new vaticination! Oh, not he

Like dolts who dallied with their scruples, fenced

With subterfuge, nor gave out frank and free Something decisive! If he said "I save The patient," saved he was: if "Death will be

"His portion," you might count him dead. Thus brave, Behold our worthy, sans competitor Throughout the country, on the architrave

Of Glory's temple golden-lettered for Machaon redivivus! So, it fell That, of a sudden, when the Emperor

Was smit by sore disease, I need not tell

If any other Doctor's aid was sought

To come and forthwith make the sick Prince well.

"He will reward thee as a monarch ought. Not much imports the malady; but then, He clings to life and cries like one distraught

"For thee—who, from a simple citizen, Mayst look to rise in rank,—nay, haply wear A medal with his portrait,—always when "Recovery is quite accomplished. There!

Pass to the presence!" Hardly has he crossed

The chamber's threshold when he halts, aware

Of who stands sentry by the head. All's lost. "Sire, nought avails my art: you near the goal, And end the race by giving up the ghost."

"How?" cried the monarch: "Names upon your roll Of half my subjects rescued by your skill—Old and young, rich and poor—crowd cheek by jowl

"And yet no room for mine? Be saved I will! Why else am I earth's foremost potentate? Add me to these and take as fee your fill

"Of gold—that point admits of no debate
Between us: save me, as you can and must,— Gold, till your gown's pouch cracks beneath the weight!"

This touched the Doctor. "Truly a home-thrust, Parent, you will not parry! Have I dared Entreat that you forego the meal of dust

"—Man that is snake's meat—when I saw prepared Your daily portion? Never! Just this once, Go from his head, then,—let his life be spared!"

Whisper met whisper in the gruff response "Fool, I must have my prey: no inch I budge From where thou see'st me thus myself ensconce."

- "Ah," moaned the sufferer, "by thy look I judge Wealth fails to tempt thee: what if honours prove More efficacious? Nought to him I grudge
- "Who saves me. Only keep my head above
 The cloud that's creeping round it—I'll divide
 My empire with thee! No? What's left but—love?
- "Does love allure thee? Well then, take as bride My only daughter, fair beyond belief! Save me—to-morrow shall the knot be tied!"

"Father, you hear him! Respite ne'er so brief Is all I beg: go now and come again Next day, for aught I care: respect the grief

"Mine will be if thy first-born sues in vain!"
"Fool, I must have my prey!" was all he got
In answer. But a fancy crossed his brain.

"I have it! Sire, methinks a meteor shot Just now across the heavens and neutralized Jove's salutary influence: 'neath the blot

"Plumb are you placed now: well that I surmised
The cause of failure! Knaves, reverse the bed!"
"Stay!" groaned the monarch, "I shall be capsized—

"Jolt—jolt—my heels uplift where late my head Was lying—sure I 'm turned right round at last! What do you say now, Doctor?" Nought he said:

For why? With one brisk leap the Antic passed From couch-foot back to pillow,—as before, Lord of the situation. Long aghast

The Doctor gazed, then "Yet one trial more Is left me" inwardly he uttered "Shame Upon thy flinty heart! Do I implore

- "This trifling favour in the idle name
 Of mercy to the moribund? I plead
 The cause of all thou dost affect: my aim
- "Befits my author! Why would I succeed? Simply that by success I may promote
 The growth of thy pet virtues—pride and greed.
- "But keep thy favours!—curse thee! I devote Henceforth my service to the other side. No time to lose: the rattle's in his throat.
- "So,—not to leave one last resource untried,— Run to my house with all haste, somebody! Bring me that knobstick thence, so often plied
- "With profit by the astrologer—shall I Disdain its help, the mystic Jacob's-Staff? Sire, do but have the courage not to die
- "Till this arrive! Let none of you dare laugh! Though rugged its exterior, I have seen That implement work wonders, send the chaff
- "Quick and thick flying from the wheat—I mean, By metaphor, a human sheaf it thrashed Flail-like. Go fetch it! Or—a word between

"Just you and me, friend!—go bid, unabashed, My mother, whom you'll find there, bring the stick Herself—herself, mind!" Out the lackey dashed

Zealous upon the errand. Craft and trick

Are meat and drink to Satan: and he grinned

—How else?—at an excuse so politic

For failure: scarce would Jacob's-Staff rescind Fate's firm decree! And ever as he neared The agonizing one, his breath like wind

Froze to the marrow, while his eye-flash seared Sense in the brain up: closelier and more close Pressing his prey, when at the door appeared —Who but his Wife the Bad? Whereof one dose, One grain, one mite of the medicament, Sufficed him. Up he sprang. One word, too gross

To soil my lips with, —and through ceiling went Somehow the Husband. "That a storm's dispersed We know for certain by the sulphury scent!

"Hail to the Doctor! Who but one so versed In all Dame Nature's secrets had prescribed The staff thus opportunely? Style him first "And foremost of physicians!" "I've imbibed Elixir surely," smiled the prince,—"have gained New lease of life. Dear Doctor, how you bribed

"Death to forego me, boots not: you've obtained My daughter and her dowry. Death, I've heard, Was still on earth the strongest power that reigned,

"Except a Bad Wife!" Whereunto demurred Nowise the Doctor, so refused the fee —No dowry, no bad wife!

"You think absurd
This tale?"—the Rabbi added: "True, our Talmud
Boasts sundry such: yet—have our elders erred
In thinking there's some water there, not all mud?"
I tell it, as the Rabbi told it me.

PAN AND LUNA.

Si credere dignum est.—Georgic. iii. 390.

O WORTHY of belief I hold it was,
Virgil, your legend in those strange three lines!
No question, that adventure came to pass
One black night in Arcadia: yes, the pines,
Mountains and valleys mingling made one mass
Of black with void black heaven: the earth's confines,
The sky's embrace,—below, above, around,
All hardened into black without a bound.

Fill up a swart stone chalice to the brim
With fresh-squeezed yet fast-thickening poppy-juice:
See how the sluggish jelly, late a-swim,
Turns marble to the touch of who would loose
The solid smooth, grown jet from rim to rim,
By turning round the bowl! So night can fuse
Earth with her all-comprising sky. No less,
Light, the least spark, shows air and emptiness.

And thus it proved when—diving into space,
Stript of all vapour, from each web of mist
Utterly film-free—entered on her race
The naked Moon, full-orbed antagonist
Of night and dark, night's dowry: peak to base,
Upstarted mountains, and each valley, kissed
To sudden life, lay silver-bright: in air
Flew she revealed, Maid-Moon with limbs all bare.

Still as she fled, each depth—where refuge seemed—
Opening a lone pale chamber, left distinct
Those limbs: mid still-retreating blue, she teemed
Herself with whiteness,—virginal, uncinct
By any halo save what finely gleamed
To outline not disguise her: heaven was linked
In one accord with earth to quaff the joy,
Drain beauty to the dregs without alloy.

Whereof she grew aware. What help? When, lo, A succourable cloud with sleep lay dense:

Some pine-tree-top had caught it sailing slow,

And tethered for a prize: in evidence

Captive lay fleece on fleece of piled-up snow

Drowsily patient: flake-heaped how or whence,

The structure of that succourable cloud,

What matter? Shamed she plunged into its shroud.

Orbed—so the woman-figure poets call Because of rounds on rounds—that apple-shaped Head which its hair binds close into a ball Each side the curving ears—that pure undraped Pout of the sister paps—that . . . Once for all, Say—her consummate circle thus escaped With its innumerous circlets, sank absorbed, Safe in the cloud—O naked Moon full-orbed!

But what means this? The downy swathes combine, Conglobe, the smothery coy-caressing stuff Curdles about her! Vain each twist and twine Those lithe limbs try, encroached on by a fluff Fitting as close as fits the dented spine Its flexile ivory outside-flesh: enough! The plumy drifts contract, condense, constringe, Till she is swallowed by the feathery springe.

As when a pearl slips lost in the thin foam
Churned on a sea-shore, and, o'er-frothed, conceits
Herself safe-housed in Amphitrite's dome,—
If, through the bladdery wave-worked yeast, she meets
What most she loathes and leaps from,—elf from gnome
No gladlier,—finds that safest of retreats
Bubble about a treacherous hand wide ope
To grasp her—(divers who pick pearls so grope)—
xv.

So lay this Maid-Moon clasped around and caught By rough red Pan, the god of all that tract: He it was schemed the snare thus subtly wrought With simulated earth-breath,—wool-tufts packed Into a billowy wrappage. Sheep far-sought For spotless shearings yield such: take the fac As learned Virgil gives it,—how the breed Whitens itself for ever: yes, indeed!

If one forefather ram, though pure as chalk
From tinge on fleece, should still display a tongue
Black 'neath the beast's moist palate, prompt men baulk

The propagating plague: he gets no young:
They rather slay him,—sell his hide to caulk Ships with, first steeped in pitch,—nor hands are wrung

In sorrow for his fate: protected thus, The purity we love is gained for us.

So did Girl-moon, by just her attribute
Of unmatched modesty betrayed, lie trapped,
Bruised to the breast of Pan, half-god half-brute,
Raked by his bristly boar-sward while he lapped
—Never say. kissed her! that were to pollute
Love's language—which moreover proves unapt

To tell how she recoiled—as who finds thorns
Where she sought flowers—when, feeling, she touched —horns!

Then—does the legend say?—first moon-eclipse Happened, first swooning-fit which puzzled sore The early sages? Is that why she dips Into the dark, a minute and no more, Only so long as serves her while she rips The cloud's womb through and, faultless as before, Pursues her way? No lesson for a maid Left she, a maid herself thus trapped, betrayed?

Ha, Virgil? Tell the rest, you! "To the deep Of his domain the wildwood, Pan forthwith Called her, and so she followed"—in her sleep, Surely?—"by no means spurning him." The myth Explain who may! Let all else go, I keep—As of a ruin just a monolith—
Thus much, one verse of five words, each a boon: Arcadia, night, a cloud, Pan, and the moon.

"Touch him ne'er so lightly, into song he broke: Soil so quick-receptive,—not one feather-seed, Not one flower-dust fell but straight its fall awoke Vitalizing virtue: song would song succeed Sudden as spontaneous—prove a poet-soul!"

Indeed?

Rock's the song-soil rather, surface hard and bare:
Sun and dew their mildness, storm and frost their rage
Vainly both expend,—few flowers awaken there:
Quiet in its cleft broods—what the after age
Knows and names a pine, a nation's heritage.

Wanting is—what? Summer redundant, Blueness abundant, —Where is the blot?

Beamy the world, yet a blank all the same,

—Framework which waits for a picture to frame:
What of the leafage, what of the flower?
Roses embowering with nought they embower!
Come then, complete incompletion, O comer,
Pant through the blueness, perfect the summer!

Breathe but one breath Rose-beauty above, And all that was death Grows life, grows love, Grows love!

"Will you hear my story also,

—Huge Sport, brave adventure in plenty?"

The boys were a band from Oxford,

The oldest of whom was twenty.

The bothy we held carouse in

Was bright with fire and candle;

Tale followed tale like a merry-go-round

Whereof Sport turned the handle.

In our eyes and noses—turf-smoke:
In our ears a tune from the trivet,
Whence "Boiling, boiling," the kettle sang,
"And ready for fresh Glenlivet."

So, feat capped feat, with a vengeance:
Truths, though,—the lads were loyal:
"Grouse, five score brace to the bag!
Deer, ten hours' stalk of the Royal!"

Of boasting, not one bit, boys!

Only there seemed to settle

Somehow above your curly heads,

—Plain through the singing kettle,

Palpable through the cloud,
As each new-puffed Havanna
Rewarded the teller's well-told tale,—
This vaunt "To Sport—Hosanna!

"Hunt, fish, shoot,
Would a man fulfil life's duty!
Not to the bodily frame alone
Does Sport give strength and beauty,

"But character gains in—courage?

Ay, Sir, and much beside it!

You don't sport, more 's the pity:

You soon would find, if you tried it,

DONALD 171

"Good sportsman means good fellow, Sound-hearted he, to the centre; Your mealy-mouthed mild milksops —There's where the rot can enter!

- "There's where the dirt will breed,
 The shabbiness Sport would banish!
 Oh no, Sir, no! In your honoured case
 All such objections vanish.
- "'T is known how hard you studied:
 A Double-First—what, the jigger!
 Give me but half your Latin and Greek,
 I'll never again touch trigger!
- "Still, tastes are tastes, allow me!
 Allow, too, where there's keenness
 For Sport, there's little likelihood
 Of a man's displaying meanness!"

So, put on my mettle, I interposed.

"Will you hear my story?" quoth I.

"Never mind how long since it happed,
I sat, as we sit, in a bothy;

"With as merry a band of mates, too,
Undergrads all on a level:
(One's a Bishop, one's gone to the Bench,
And one's gone—well, to the Devil.)

"When, lo, a scratching and tapping!
In hobbled a ghastly visitor.
Listen to just what he told us himself
—No need of our playing inquisitor!"

Do you happen to know in Ross-shire

Mount . . . Ben . . . but the name scarce

matters:

Of the naked fact I am sure enough, Though I clothe it in rags and tatters.

You may recognise Ben by description; Behind him—a moor's immenseness: Up goes the middle mount of a range, Fringed with its firs in denseness. Rimming the edge, its fir-fringe, mind!

For an edge there is, though narrow;

From end to end of the range, a stripe

Of path runs straight as an arrow.

And the mountaineer who takes that path Saves himself miles of journey He has to plod if he crosses the moor Through heather, peat and burnie.

But a mountaineer he needs must be,
For, look you, right in the middle Projects bluff Ben—with an end in ich—
Why planted there, is a riddle:

Since all Ben's brothers little and big Keep rank, set shoulder to shoulder, And only this burliest out must bulge Till it seems—to the beholder

From down in the gully,—as if Ben's breast To a sudden spike diminished, Would signify to the boldest foot "All further passage finished!"

Yet the mountaineer who sidles on And on to the very bending, Discovers, if heart and brain be proof, No necessary ending.

Foot up, foot down, to the turn abrupt
Having trod, he, there arriving,
Finds—what he took for a point was breadth,
A mercy of Nature's contriving.

So, he rounds what, when 't is reached, proves straight,

From one side gains the other:

The wee path widens—resume the march,

And he foils you, Ben my brother!

But Donald—(that name, I hope, will do)—
I wrong him if I call "foiling"
The tramp of the callant, whistling the while
As blithe as our kettle's boiling.

He had dared the danger from boyhood up, And now,—when perchance was waiting A lass at the brig below,—'twixt mount And moor would he stand debating? Moreover this Donald was twenty-five, A glory of bone and muscle: Did a fiend dispute the right of way, Donald would try a tussle.

Lightsomely marched he out of the broad On to the narrow and narrow; A step more, rounding the angular rock, Reached the front straight as an arrow.

He stepped it, safe on the ledge he stood, When—whom found he full-facing? What fellow in courage and wariness too, Had scouted ignoble pacing,

And left low safety to timid mates,

And made for the dread dear danger,

And gained the height where—who could guess

He would meet with a rival ranger?

'T was a gold-red stag that stood and stared, Gigantic and magnific, By the wonder—ay, and the peril—struck Intelligent and pacific: For a red deer is no fallow deer Grown cowardly through park-feeding; He batters you like a thunderbolt If you brave his haunts unheeding.

I doubt he could hardly perform volte-face
Had valour advised discretion:
You may walk on a rope, but to turn on a rope
No Blondin makes profession.

Yet Donald must turn, would pride permit,
Though pride ill brooks retiring:
Each eyed.each—mute man, motionless beast—
Less fearing than admiring.

These are the moments when quite new sense,
To meet some need as novel,
Springs up in the brain: it inspired resource:
—"Nor advance nor retreat but—grovel!"

And slowly, surely, never a whit
Relaxing the steady tension
Of eye-stare which binds man to beast,—
By an inch and inch declension,

DONALD 177

Sank Donald sidewise down and down:

Till flat, breast upwards, lying

At his six-foot length, no corpse more still,

—"If he cross me! The trick's worth trying."

Minutes were an eternity;

But a new sense was created

In the stag's brain too; he resolves! Slow, sure,

With eye-stare unabated,

Feelingly he extends a foot
Which tastes the way ere it touches
Earth's solid and just escapes man's soft,
Nor hold of the same unclutches

Till its fellow foot, light as a feather whisk,
Lands itself no less finely:
So a mother removes a fly from the face
Of her babe asleep supinely.

And now 't is the haunch and hind foot's turn

—That 's hard: can the beast quite raise it?

Yes, traversing half the prostrate length,

His hoof-tip does not graze it.

XV.

Just one more lift! But Donald, you see,Was sportsman first, man after:A fancy lightened his caution through,—He well-nigh broke into laughter.

"It were nothing short of a miracle!
Unrivalled, unexampled—
All sporting feats with this feat matched
Were down and dead and trampled!"

The last of the legs as tenderly
Follows the rest: or never
Or now is the time! His knife in reach,
And his right-hand loose—how clever!

For this can stab up the stomach's soft,
While the left-hand grasps the pastern.
A rise on the elbow, and—now's the time
Or never: this turn's the last turn!

I shall dare to place myself by God
Who scanned—for He does—each feature
Of the face thrown up in appeal to Him
By the agonizing creature.

DONALD 179

Nay, I hear plain words: "Thy gift brings this!"
Up he sprang, back he staggered,
Over he fell, and with him our friend
—At following game no laggard.

Yet he was not dead when they picked next day
From the gully's depth the wreck of him;
His fall had been stayed by the stag beneath
Who cushioned and saved the neck of him

But the rest of his body—why, doctors said,
Whatever could break was broken;
Legs, arms, ribs, all of him looked like a toast
In a tumbler of port-wine soaken.

"That your life is left you, thank the stag!"
Said they when—the slow cure ended—
They opened the hospital door, and thence —Strapped, spliced, main fractures mended,

And minor damage left wisely alone,—
Like an old shoe clouted and cobbled,
Out—what went in a Goliath well-nigh,—
Some half of a David hobbled.

"You must ask an alms from house to house:

Sell the stag's head for a bracket,

With its grand twelve tines—I'd buy it myself—

And use the skin for a jacket!"

He was wiser, made both head and hide
His win-penny: hands and knees on,
Would manage to crawl—poor crab—by the roads
In the misty stalking-season.

And if he discovered a bothy like this,
Why, harvest was sure: folk listened.
He told his tale to the lovers of Sport:
Lips twitched, cheeks glowed, eyes glistened.

And when he had come to the close, and spread His spoils for the gazers' wonder, With "Gentlemen, here's the skull of the stag I was over, thank God, not under!"—

The company broke out in applause;
"By Jingo, a lucky cripple!

Have a munch of grouse and a hunk of
And a tug, besides, at our tipple!"

DONALD 18r

And "There's my pay for your pluck!" cried This,
"And mine for your jolly story!"

Cried That, while 'T other—but he was drunk—
Hiccupped "A trump, a Tory!"

I hope I gave twice as much as the rest;
For, as Homer would say, "within grate
Though teeth kept tongue," my whole soul growled
"Rightly rewarded,—Ingrate!"

SOLOMON AND BALKIS.

- Solomon King of the Jews and the Queen of Sheba Balkis
- Talk on the ivory throne, and we well may conjecture their talk is
- Solely of things sublime: why else has she sought Mount Zion,
- Climbed the six golden steps, and sat betwixt lion and lion?
- She proves him with hard questions: before she has reached the middle
- He smiling supplies the end, straight solves them riddle by riddle;
- Until, dead-beaten at last, there is left no spirit in her,
- And thus would she close the game whereof she was first beginner:

- "O wisest thou of the wise, world's marvel and well-nigh monster,
- One crabbed question more to construe or vulgo conster! Who are those, of all mankind, a monarch of perfect wisdom
- Should open to, when they knock at spheteron do—that's his dome?"
- The King makes tart reply: "Whom else but the wise his equals
- Should he welcome with heart and voice?—since, king though he be, such weak walls
- Of circumstance—power and pomp—divide souls each from other
- That whoso proves kingly in craft I needs must acknowledge my brother.
- "Come poet, come painter, come sculptor, come builder
 —whate'er his condition,
- Is he prime in his art? We are peers! My insight has pierced the partition
- And hails—for the poem, the picture, the statue, the building—my fellow!
- Gold's gold though dim in the dust: court-polish soon turns it yellow.

- "But tell me in turn, O thou to thy weakling sex superior,
 That for knowledge hast travelled so far yet seemest no whit the wearier,—
- Who are those, of all mankind, a queen like thyself, consummate
- In wisdom, should call to her side with an affable 'Up hither, come, mate!'"
- "The Good are my mates—how else? Why doubt it?" the Queen upbridled:
- "Sure even above the Wise,—or in travel my eyes have idled,—
- I see the Good stand plain: be they rich, poor, shrewd or simple,
- If Good they only are. . . . Permit me to drop my wimple!"
- And in that bashful jerk of her body, she—peace, thou scoffer!—
- Jostled the King's right-hand stretched courteously help to proffer,
- And so disclosed a portent: all unaware the Prince eyed
- The Ring which bore the Name—turned outside now from inside!

- The truth-compelling Name!—and at once "I greet the Wise—Oh,
- Certainly welcome such to my court—with this proviso:
- The building must be my temple, my person stand forth the statue,
- The picture my portrait prove, and the poem my praise—you cat, you!"
- But Solomon nonplussed? Nay! "Be truthful in turn!" so bade he:
- "See the Name, obey its hest!" And at once subjoins the lady
- —"Provided the Good are the young, men strong and tall and proper,
- Such servants I straightway enlist,—which means . . ." but the blushes stop her.
- "Ah, Soul," the Monarch sighed, "that wouldst soar yet ever crawlest.
- How comes it thou canst discern the greatest yet choose the smallest,
- Unless because heaven is far, where wings find fit expansion.
- While creeping on all-fours suits, suffices the earthly mansion?

- "Aspire to the Best! But which? There are Bests and Bests so many,
- With a habitat each for each, earth's Best as much Best as any!
- On Lebanon roots the cedar—soil lofty, yet stony and sandy—
- While hyssop, of worth in its way, on the wall grows low but handy.
- "Above may the Soul spread wing, spurn body and sense beneath her;
- Below she must condescend to plodding unbuoyed by æther.
- In heaven I yearn for knowledge, account all else inanity;
- On earth I confess an itch for the praise of fools—that's Vanity.
- "It is nought, it will go, it can never presume above to trouble me;
- But here,—why, it toys and tickles and teases, howe'er I redouble me
- In a doggedest of endeavours to play the indifferent.

 Therefore,
- Suppose we resume discourse? Thou hast travelled thus far: but wherefore?

- "Solely for Solomon's sake, to see whom earth styles Sagest?"
- Through her blushes laughed the Queen. "For the sake of a Sage? The gay jest!
- On high, be communion with Mind—there, Body concerns not Balkis:
- Down here,—do I make too bold? Sage Solomon,—one fool's small kiss!"

CRISTINA AND MONALDESCHI.

AH, but how each loved each, Marquis!

Here's the gallery they trod

Both together, he her god,

She his idol,—lend your rod,

Chamberlain!—ay, there they are—"Quis

Separabit?"—plain those two

Touching words come into view,

Apposite for me and you:

Since they witness to incessant

Love like ours: King Francis, he—
Diane the adored one, she—
Prototypes of you and me.

Everywhere is carved her Crescent
With his Salamander-sign—
Flame-fed creature: flame benign
To itself or, if malign,

Only to the meddling curious,

—So, be warned, Sir! Where 's my head?

How it wanders! What I said

Merely meant—the creature, fed

Thus on flame, was scarce injurious

Save to fools who woke its ire,

Thinking fit to play with fire.

'Tis the Crescent you admire?

Then, be Diane! I'll be Francis.

Crescents change,—true!—wax and wane,
Woman-like: male hearts retain
Heat nor, once warm, cool again.

So, we figure—such our chance is—
I as man and you as . . . What?

Take offence? My Love forgot
He plays woman, I do not?

I—the woman? See my habit,
Ask my people! Anyhow,
Be we what we may, one vow
Binds us, male or female. Now,—
Stand, Sir! Read! "Quis separabit?"
Half a mile of pictured way
Past these palace-walls to-day
Traversed, this I came to say.

You must needs begin to love me;
First I hated, then, at best,
—Have it so!—I acquiesced;
Pure compassion did the rest.
From below thus raised above me,
Would you, step by step, descend,
Pity me, become my friend,
Like me, like less, loathe at end?

That's the ladder's round you rose by!

That—my own foot kicked away,

Having raised you: let it stay,

Serve you for retreating? Nay.

Close to me you climbed: as close by,

Keep your station, though the peak

Reached proves somewhat bare and bleak

Woman's strong if man is weak.

Keep here, loving me forever!

Love's look, gesture, speech, I claim;
Act love, lie love, all the same—
Play as earnest were our game!

Lonely I stood long: 't was clever
When you climbed, before men's eyes,
Spurned the earth and scaled the skies,
Gained my peak and grasped your prize.

Here you stood, then, to men's wonder;
Here you tire of standing? Kneel!
Cure what giddiness you feel,
This way! Do your senses reel?
Not unlikely! What rolls under?
Yawning death in yon abyss
Where the waters whirl and hiss
Round more frightful peaks than this.

Should my buffet dash you thither . . .

But be sage! No watery grave
Needs await you: seeming brave
Kneel on safe, dear timid slave!
You surmised, when you climbed hither,
Just as easy were retreat
Should you tire, conceive unmeet
Longer patience at my feet?

Me as standing, you as stooping,—
Who arranged for each the pose?
Lest men think us friends turned foes,
Keep the attitude you chose!
Men are used to this same grouping—
I and you like statues seen.
You and I, no third between,
Kneel and stand! That makes the scene.

Mar it—and one buffet . . . Pardon!

Needless warmth—wise words in waste!

'T was prostration that replaced

Kneeling, then? A proof of taste.

Crouch, not kneel, while I mount guard on

Prostrate love—become no waif,

No estray to waves that chafe

Disappointed—love's so safe!

Waves that chafe? The idlest fancy!
Peaks that scare? I think we know
Walls enclose our sculpture: so
Grouped, we pose in Fontainebleau.
Up now! Wherefore hesitancy?
Arm in arm and cheek by cheek,
Laugh with me at waves and peak!
Silent still? Why, pictures speak.

See, where Juno strikes Ixion,
Primatice speaks plainly! Pooh—
Rather, Florentine Le Roux!
I've lost head for who is who—
So it swims and wanders! Fie on What still proves me female! Here,
By the staircase!—for we near
That dark "Gallery of the Deer."

Look me in the eyes once! Steady!

Are you faithful now as erst
On that eve when we two first
Vowed at Avon, blessed and cursed
Faith and falsehood? Pale already?
Forward! Must my hand compel
Entrance—this way? Exit—well,
Somehow, somewhere. Who can tell?

What if to the self-same place in Rustic Avon, at the door
Of the village church once more,
Where a tombstone paves the floor
By that holy-water basin
You appealed to—"As, below,
This stone hides its corpse, e'en so
I your secrets hide"? What ho!

Friends, my four! You, Priest, confess him!

I have judged the culprit there:

Execute my sentence! Care

For no mail such cowards wear!

Done, Priest? Then, absolve and bless him!

Now—you three, stab thick and fast,

Deep and deeper! Dead at last?

Thanks, friends—Father, thanks! Aghast?

What one word of his confession

Would you tell me, though I lured

With that royal crown abjured

Just because its bars immured

Love too much? Love burst compression,

Fled free, finally confessed

All its secrets to that breast

Whence . . . let Ayon tell the rest!

MARY WOLLSTONECRAFT AND FUSELI.

On but is it not hard, Dear?

Mine are the nerves to quake at a mouse:

If a spider drops I shrink with fear:

I should die outright in a haunted house;
While for you—did the danger dared bring help—
From a lion's den I could steal his whelp,
With a serpent round me, stand stock-still,
Go sleep in a churchyard,—so would will Give me the power to dare and do
Valiantly—just for you!

Much amiss in the head, Dear,

I toil at a language, tax my brain

Attempting to draw—the scratches here!

I play, play, practise and all in vain:

But for you—if my triumph brought you pride,
I would grapple with Greek Plays till I died,

Paint a portrait of you—who can tell?
Work my fingers off for your "Pretty well:"
Language and painting and music too,
Easily done—for you!

Strong and fierce in the heart, Dear,

With—more than a will—what seems a power
To pounce on my prey, love outbroke here
In flame devouring and to devour.
Such love has laboured its best and worst
To win me a lover; yet, last as first,
I have not quickened his pulse one beat,
Fixed a moment's fancy, bitter or sweet:
Yet the strong fierce heart's love's labour's due,
Utterly lost, was—you!

ADAM, LILITH, AND EVE.

One day it thundered and lightened.

Two women, fairly frightened,

Sank to their knees, transformed, transfixed,

At the feet of the man who sat betwixt;

And "Mercy!" cried each—"if I tell the truth

Of a passage in my youth!"

Said This: "Do you mind the morning I met your love with scorning? As the worst of the venom left my lips, I thought 'If, despite this lie, he strips The mask from my soul with a kiss—I crawl His slave,—soul, body and all!'"

Said That: "We stood to be married;
The priest, or someone, tarried;
'If Paradise-door prove locked?' smiled you.
I thought, as I nodded, smiling too,
'Did one, that's away, arrive—nor late
Nor soon should unlock Hell's gate!'

It ceased to lighten and thunder.

Up started both in wonder,

Looked round and saw that the sky was clear,

Then laughed "Confess you believed us, Dear!"

"I saw through the joke!" the man replied

They re-seated themselves beside.

- High in the dome, suspended, of Hell, sad triumph, behold us!
 - Here the revenge of a God, there the amends of a Man.
- Whirling forever in torment, flesh once mortal, immortal
 - Made—for a purpose of hate—able to die and revive,
- Pays to the uttermost pang, then, newly for payment replenished,
 - Doles out—old yet young—agonies ever afresh;
- Whence the result above me: torment is bridged by a rainbow,—
 - Tears, sweat, blood,—each spasm, ghastly once, glorified now.
- Wrung, by the rush of the wheel ordained my place of reposing,
 - Off in a sparklike spray,—flesh become vapour thro' pain,—

- Flies the bestowment of Zeus, soul's vaunted bodily vesture,
 - Made that his feats observed gain the approval of Man,—
- Flesh that he fashioned with sense of the earth and the sky and the ocean,
 - Framed should pierce to the star, fitted to pore on the plant,—
- All, for a purpose of hate, re-framed, re-fashioned, re-fitted
 - Till, consummate at length,—lo, the employment of sense!
- Pain's mere minister now to the soul, once pledged to her pleasure—
 - Soul, if untrammelled by flesh, unapprehensive of pain!
- Body, professed soul's slave, which serving beguiled and betrayed her,
 - Made things false seem true, cheated thro' eye and thro' ear,
- Lured thus heart and brain to believe in the lying reported,—
 - Spurn but the traitorous slave, uttermost atom, away,
- What should obstruct soul's rush on the real, the only apparent?

- Say I have erred,—how else? Was I Ixion or Zeus?
- Foiled by my senses I dreamed; I doubtless awaken in wonder:
 - This proves shine, that—shade? Good was the evil that seemed?
- Shall I, with sight thus gained, by torture be taught I was blind once?
 - Sisuphos, teaches thy stone—Tantalos, teaches thy thirst
- Aught which unaided sense, purged pure, less plainly demonstrates?
 - No, for the past was dream: now that the dreamers awake,
- Sisuphos scouts low fraud, and to Tantalos treason is folly.
 - Ask of myself, whose form melts on the murderous wheel,
- What is the sin which throe and throe prove sin to the sinner!
 - Say the false charge was true,—thus do I expiate, say,
- Arrogant thought, word, deed,—mere man who conceited me godlike,
 - Sat beside Zeus, my friend—knelt before Heré, my love!

- What were the need but of pitying power to touch and disperse it,
 - Film-work—eye's and ear's—all the distraction of sense?
- How should the soul not see, not hear,—perceive and as plainly
 - Render, in thought, word, deed, back again truth—not a lie?
- "Ay, but the pain is to punish thee!" Zeus, once more for a pastime,
 - Play the familiar, the frank! Speak and have speech in return!
- I was of Thessaly king, there ruled and a people obeyed me:
 - Mine to establish the law, theirs to obey it or die:
- Wherefore? Because of the good to the people, because of the honour
 - Thence accruing to me, king, the king's law was supreme.
- What of the weakling, the ignorant criminal? Not who, excuseless,
 - Breaking my law braved death, knowing his deed and its due—
- Nay, but the feeble and foolish, the poor transgressor, of purpose
 - No whit more than a tree, born to erectness of bole,

- Palm or plane or pine, we laud if lofty, columnar-
 - Loathe if athwart, askew,—leave to the axe and the flame!
- Where is the vision may penetrate earth and beholding acknowledge
 - Just one pebble at root ruined the straightness of stem?
- Whose fine vigilance follows the sapling, accounts for the failure,
 - —Here blew wind, so it bent: there the snow lodged, so it broke?
- Also the tooth of the beast, bird's bill, mere bite of the insect
 - Gnawed, gnarled, warped their worst: passive it lay to offence.
- King—I was man, no more: what I recognized fau'ty I punished,
 - Laying it prone: be sure, more than a man had I proved,
- Watch and ward o'er the sapling at birthtime had saved it, nor simply
 - Owned the distortion's excuse,—hindered it wholly: nay, more—
- Even a man, as I sat in my place to do judgment, and pallid
 - Criminals passing to doom shuddered away at my foot,

- Could I have probed thro' the face to the heart, read plain a repentance,
 - Crime confessed fools' play, virtue ascribed to the wise,
- Had I not stayed the consignment to doom, not dealt the renewed ones
 - Life to retraverse the past, light to retrieve the misdeed?
- Thus had I done, and thus to have done much more it behoves thee,
 - Zeus who madest man-flawless or faulty, thy work!
- What if the charge were true, as thou mouthest,—Ixion the cherished
 - Minion of Zeus grew vain, vied with the godships and fell,
- Forfeit thro' arrogance? Stranger! I clothed, with the grace of our human,
 - Inhumanity—gods, natures I likened to ours.
- Man among men I had borne me till gods forsooth must regard me
 - —Nay, must approve, applaud, claim as a comrade at last.
- Summoned to enter their circle, I sat—their equal, how other?
 - Love should be absolute love, faith is in fulness or nought.

"I am thy friend, be mine!" smiled Zeus: "If Heré attract thee,"

- Blushed the imperial cheek, "then—as thy heart may suggest!"
- Faith in me sprang to the faith, my love hailed love as its fellow,
 - "Zeus, we are friends—how fast! Heré, my heart for thy heart!"
- Then broke smile into fury of frown, and the thunder of "Hence, fool!"
 - Then thro' the kiss laughed scorn "Limbs or a cloud was to clasp?"
- Then from Olumpos to Erebos, then from the rapture to torment,
 - Then from the fellow of gods—misery's mate, to the man!
- -- Man henceforth and forever, who lent from the glow of his nature
 - Warmth to the cold, with light coloured the black and the blank.
- Co did a man conceive of your passion, you passionprotesters!
 - So did he trust, so love—being the truth of your lie!
- You to aspire to be Man! Man made you who vainly would ape him:
 - You are the hollowness, he—filling you, falsifies void.

- Even as—witness the emblem, Hell's sad triumph suspended,
 - Born of my tears, sweat, blood—bursting to vapour above—
- Arching my torment, an iris ghostlike startles the darkness,
 - Cold white jewelry quenched justifies, glorifies pain.
- Strive, mankind, though strife endure through endless obstruction,
- Stage after stage, each rise marred by as certain a fall!
 Baffled forever—yet never so baffled but, e'en in the baffling,
 - When Man's strength proves weak, checked in the body or soul—
- Whatsoever the medium, flesh or essence,—Ixion's
 - Made for a purpose of hate,—clothing the entity Thou,
- —Medium whence that entity strives for the Not-Thou beyond it,
- Fire elemental, free, frame unencumbered, the All,— Never so baffled but—when, on the verge of an alien existence,
- Heartened to press, by pangs burst to the infinite Pure, Nothing is reached but the ancient weakness still that arrests strength,

- Circumambient still, still the poor human array,
- Pride and revenge and hate and cruelty—all it has burst through,
 - Thought to escape,—fresh formed, found in the fashion it fled,—
- Never so baffled but—when Man pays the price of endeavour,
 - Thunderstruck, downthrust, Tartaros-doomed to the wheel,—
- Then, ay, then, from the tears and sweat and blood of his torment,
 - E'en from the triumph of Hell, up let him look and rejoice!
- What is the influence, high o'er Hell, that turns to a rapture
 - Pain—and despair's murk mists blends in a rainbow of hope?
- What is beyond the obstruction, stage by stage tho' it baffle?
 - Back must I fall, confess "Ever the weakness I fled"?
- No, for beyond, far, far is a Purity all-unobstructed!

 Zeus was Zeus—not Man: wrecked by his weakness, I whirl.

- Out of the wreck I rise—past Zeus to the Potency o'er him!

- I—to have hailed him my friend! I—to have clasped her—my love!
- Pallid birth of my pain,—where light, where light is, aspiring
 - Thither I rise, whilst thou—Zeus, keep the godship and sink!

JOCHANAN HAKKADOSH.

"This now, this other story makes amends And justifies our Mishna," quoth the Jew Aforesaid. "Tell it, learnedest of friends!"

A certain morn broke beautiful and blue
O'er Schiphaz city, bringing joy and mirth,
—So had ye deemed; while the reverse was true,

Since one small house there gave a sorrow birth In such black sort that, to each faithful eye, Midnight, not morning settled on the earth.

How else, when it grew certain thou wouldst die Our much-enlightened master, Israel's prop, Eximious Jochanan Ben Sabbathai?

XV.

Old, yea but, undiminished of a drop, The vital essence pulsed through heart and brain; Time left unsickled yet the plenteous crop

On poll and chin and cheek, whereof a skein Handmaids might weave—hairs silk-soft, silver-white, Such as the wool-plant's; none the less in vain

Had Physic striven her best against the spite Of fell disease: the Rabbi must succumb; And, round the couch whereon in piteous plight

He lay a-dying, scholars,—awe-struck, dumb
Throughout the night-watch,—roused themselves and spoke

One to the other: "Ere death's touch benumb

"His active sense,—while yet 'neath Reason's yoke Obedient toils his tongue,—befits we claim The fruit of long experience, bid this oak

"Shed us an acorn which may, all the same, Grow to a temple-pillar,—dear that day!— When Israel's scattered seed finds place and name "Among the envious nations. Lamp us, pray,
Thou the Enlightener! Partest hence in peace?
Hailest without regret—much less, dismay—

"The hour of thine approximate release From fleshly bondage soul hath found obstruct? Calmly envisagest the sure increase "Of knowledge? Eden's tree must hold unplucked Some apple, sure, has never tried thy tooth, Juicy with sapience thou hast sought, not sucked?

"Say, does age acquiesce in vanished youth? Still towers thy purity above—as erst— Our pleasant follies? Be thy last word—truth!"

The Rabbi groaned; then, grimly, "Last as first The truth speak I—in boyhood who began Striving to live an angel, and, amerced

"For such presumption, die now hardly man. What have I proved of life? To live, indeed, That much I learned: but here lies Jochanan

- "More luckless than stood David when, to speed His fighting with the Philistine, they brought Saul's harness forth: whereat, 'Alack, I need
- "' Armour to arm me, but have never fought With sword and spear, nor tried to manage shield, Proving arms' use, as well-trained warrior ought.
- "' Only a sling and pebbles can I wield!'
 So he: while I, contrariwise, 'No trick
 Of weapon helpful on the battle-field
- "' Comes unfamiliar to my theoric:
 But, bid me put in practice what I know,
 Give me a sword—it stings like Moses' stick,
- "'A serpent I let drop apace.' E'en so, I,—able to comport me at each stage
 Of human life as never here below
- "Man played his part,—since mine the heritage Of wisdom carried to that perfect pitch, Ye rightly praise,—I, therefore, who, thus sage,

- "Could sure act man triumphantly, enrich Life's annals with example how I played Lover, Bard, Soldier, Statist,—(all of which
- "Parts in presentment failing, cries invade The world's ear—'Ah, the Past, the pearl-gift thrown To hogs, time's opportunity we made
- "'So light of, only recognized when flown!

 Had we been wise!')—in fine, I—wise enough,—

 What profit brings me wisdom never shown
- "Just when its showing would from each rebuff Shelter weak virtue, threaten back to bounds Encroaching vice, tread smooth each track too rough
- "For youth's unsteady footstep, climb the rounds Of life's long ladder, one by slippery one, Yet make no stumble? Me hard fate confounds
- "With that same crowd of wailers I outrun By promising to teach another cry Of more hilarious mood than theirs, the sun

- "I look my last at is insulted by.

 What cry,—ye ask? Give ear on every side!

 Witness yon Lover! 'How entrapped am I!
- "'Me.hought, because a virgin's rose-lip vied With ripe Khubbezleh's, needs must beauty mate With meekness and discretion in a bride:
- "'Bride she became to me who wail—too late—
 Unwise I loved!' That's one cry. 'Mind's my gift:
 I might have loaded me with lore, full weight
- "' Pressed down and running over at each rift
 O' the brain-bag where the famished clung and fed.
 I filled it with what rubbish!—would not sift
- "'The wheat from chaff, sound grain from musty—shed Poison abroad as oft as nutriment—
 And sighing say but as my fellows said,
- "'' Unwise I learned!' That's two. 'In dwarfs-play spent

Was giant's prowess: warrior all unversed In war's right waging, I struck brand, was lent

- "" For steel's fit service, on mere stone—and cursed Alike the shocked limb and the shivered steel, Seeing too late the blade's true use which erst
- "'How was I blind to! My cry swells the peal— Unwise I fought!' That's three. But wherefore waste

Breath on the wailings longer? Why reveal

- "A root of bitterness whereof the taste
 Is noisome to Humanity at large?
 First we get Power, but Power absurdly placed
- "In Folly's keeping, who resigns her charge To Wisdom when all Power grows nothing worth: Bones marrowless are mocked with helm and targe
- "When, like your Master's, soon below the earth With worms shall warfare only be. Farewell, Children! I die a failure since my birth!"
- "Not so!" arose a protest as, pell-mell,
 They pattered from his chamber to the street,
 Bent on a last resource. Our Targums tell

That such resource there is. Put case, there meet The Nine Points of Perfection—rarest chance— Within some saintly teacher whom the fleet

Years, in their blind implacable advance, O'ertake before fit teaching born of these Have magnified his scholars' countenance,—

If haply folk compassionating please To render up—according to his store, Each one—a portion of the life he sees

Hardly worth saving when 't is set before Earth's benefit should the Saint, Hakkadosh, Favoured thereby, attain to full fourscore—

If such contribute (Scoffer, spare thy "Bosh!") A year, a month, a day, an hour—to eke Life out,—in him away the gift shall wash

That much of ill-spent time recorded, streak

The twilight of the so-assisted sage

With a new sunrise: truth, though strange to speak!

Quick to the doorway, then, where youth and age, All Israel, thronging, waited for the last News of the loved one. "'T is the final stage:

- "Art's utmost done, the Rabbi's feet tread fast The way of all flesh!" So announced that apt Olive-branch Tsaddik: "Yet, O Brethren, cast
- "No eye to earthward! Look where heaven has clapped Morning's extinguisher—yon ray-shot robe Of sun-threads—on the constellation mapped
- "And mentioned by our Elders,—yea, from Job Down to Satam,—as figuring forth—what? Perpend a mystery! Ye call it Dob—
- "'The Bear': I trow, a wiser name than that Were Aish—'The Bier': a corpse those four stars hold, Which—are not those Three Daughters weeping at,
- "Banoth? I judge so: list while I unfold The reason. As in twice twelve hours this Bier Goes and returns, about the East-cone rolled,

- "So may a setting luminary here Be rescued from extinction, rolled anew Upon its track of labour, strong and clear,
- "About the Pole—that Salem, every Jew Helps to build up when thus he saves some Saint Ordained its architect. Ye grasp the clue
- "To all ye seek? The Rabbi's lamp-flame faint Sinks: would ye raise it? Lend then life from yours, Spare each his oil-drop! Do I need acquaint
- "The Chosen how self-sacrifice ensures
 Ten-fold requital?—urge ye emulate
 The fame of those Old Just Ones death procures
- "Such praise for, that 't is now men's sole debate Which of the Ten, who volunteered at Rome To die for glory to our Race, was great
- "Beyond his fellows? Was it thou—the comb Of iron carded, flesh from bone, away, While thy lips sputtered thro' their bloody foam

- "Without a stoppage (O brave Akiba!)
 'Hear, Israel, our Lord God is One'? Or thou, Jischab?—who smiledst, burning, since there lay,
- "Burning along with thee, our Law! I trow, Such martyrdom might tax flesh to afford: While that for which I make petition now,
- "To what amounts it? Youngster, wilt thou hoard Each minute of long years thou look'st to spend In dalliance with thy spouse? Hast thou so soared,
- "Singer of songs, all out of sight of friend And teacher, warbling like a woodland bird, There's left no Selah, 'twixt two psalms, to lend
- "Our late-so-tuneful quirist? Thou, averred.

 The fighter born to plant our lion-flag

 Once more on Zion's mount,—doth, all-unheard,
- "My pleading fail to move thee? Toss some rag Shall staunch our wound, some minute never missed From swordsman's lustihood like thine! Wilt lag

"In liberal bestowment, show close fist When open palm we look for,—thou, wide-known For statecraft? whom, 't is said, an if thou list,

"The Shah himself would seat beside his throne, So valued were advice from thee"... But here He stopped short: such a hubbub! Not alone

From those addressed, but, far as well as near,
The crowd broke into clamour: "Mine, mine, mine—
Lop from my life the excrescence, never fear!

"At me thou lookedst, markedst me! Assign
To me that privilege of granting life—
Mine, mine!" Then he: "Be patient! I combine

"The needful portions only, wage no strife With Nature's law nor seek to lengthen out The Rabbi's day unduly. 'T is the knife

"I stop,—would cut its thread too short. About As much as helps life last the proper term, The appointed Fourscore,—that I crave and scout "A too-prolonged existence. Let the worm Change at fit season to the butterfly! And here a story strikes me, to confirm

"This judgment. Of our worthies, none ranks high As Perida who kept the famous school: None rivalled him in patience: none! For why?

In lecturing it was his constant rule,
Whatever he expounded, to repeat

—Ay, and keep on repeating, lest some fool

"Should fail to understand him fully—(feat Unparalleled, Uzzean!)—do ye mark?— Five hundred times! So might he entrance beat

"For knowledge into howsoever dark And dense the brain-pan. Yet it happed, at close Of one especial lecture, not one spark

"Of light was found to have illumed the rows Of pupils round their pedagogue. 'What, still Impenetrable to me? Then—here goes!'

- "And for a second time he sets the rill Of knowledge running, and five hundred times More re-repeats the matter—and gains nil.
- "Out broke a voice from heaven: 'Thy patience climbs Even thus high. Choose! Wilt thou, rather, quick Ascend to bliss—or, since thy zeal sublimes
- "'Such drudgery, will thy back still bear its crick, Bent o'er thy class,—thy voice drone spite of drouth,— Five hundred years more at thy desk wilt stick?'
- "'To heaven with me!' was in the good man's mouth, When all his scholars,—cruel-kind were they!—
 Stopped utterance, from East, West, North and South,
- "Rending the welkin with their shout of 'Nay—No heaven as yet for our instructor! Grant Five hundred years on earth for Perida!'
- "And so long did he keep instructing! Want Our Master no such misery! I but take Three months of life marital. Ministrant

"Be thou of so much, Poet! Bold I make, Swordsman, with thy frank offer!—and conclude, Statist, with thine! One year,—ye will not shake

"My purpose to accept no more. So rude?
The very boys and girls, forsooth, must press
And proffer their addition? Thanks! The mood

"Is laudable, but I reject, no less,
One month, week, day of life more. Leave my gown,
Ye overbold ones! Your life's gift, you guess,

"Were good as any? Rudesby, get thee down! Set my feet free, or fear my staff! Farewell, Seniors and saviours, sharers of renown

"With Jochanan henceforward!" Straightway fell Sleep on the sufferer; who awoke in health, Hale everyway, so potent was the spell.

O the rare Spring-time! Who is he by stealth Approaches Jochanan?—embowered that sits Under his vine and figtree mid the wealth Of garden-sights and sounds, since intermits Never the turtle's coo, nor stays nor stints The rose her smell. In homage that befits

The musing Master, Tsaddik, see, imprints A kiss on the extended foot, low bends Forehead to earth, then, all-obsequious, hints

"What if it should be time? A period ends— That of the Lover's gift—his quarter-year Of lustihood: 't is just thou make amends,

"Return that loan with usury: so, here Come I, of thy Disciples delegate, Claiming our lesson from thee. Make appear

"Thy profit from experience! Plainly state
How men should Love!" Thus he: and to him thus
The Rabbi: "Love, ye call it?—rather, Hate!

"What wouldst thou? Is it needful I discuss Wherefore new sweet wine, poured in bottles caked With old strong wine's deposit, offers us

- "Spoilt liquor we recoil from, thirst-unslaked? Like earth-smoke from a crevice, out there wound Languors and yearnings: not a sense but ached
- "Weighed on by fancied form and feature, sound Of silver word and sight of sunny smile: No beckoning of a flower-branch, no profound
- Purple of noon-oppression, no light wile
 O' the West wind, but transformed itself till—brief—
 Before me stood the phantasy ye style
- "Youth's love, the joy that shall not come to grief, Born to endure, eternal, unimpaired By custom the accloyer, time the thief.
- "Had Age's hard cold knowledge only spared That ignorance of Youth! But now the dream, Fresh as from Paradise, alighting fared
- "As fares the pigeon, finding what may seem Her nest's safe hollow holds a snake inside Coiled to enclasp her. See, Eve stands supreme xv. Q

- "In youth and beauty! Take her for thy bride! What Youth deemed crystal, Age finds out was dew Morn set a-sparkle, but which noon quick dried
- "While Youth bent gazing at its red and blue Supposed perennial,—never dreamed the sun Which kindled the display would quench it too.
- "Graces of shape and colour—everyone
 With its appointed period of decay
 When ripe to purpose! 'Still, these dead and done,
- "'Survives the woman-nature—the soft sway
 Of undefinable omnipotence
 O'er our strong male-stuff, we of Adam's clay.'
- "Ay, if my physics taught not why and whence The attraction! Am I like the simple steer Who, from his pasture lured inside the fence
- "Where yoke and goad await him, holds that mere Kindliness prompts extension of the hand Hollowed for barley, which drew near and near

"His nose—in proof that, of the horned band, The farmer best affected him? Beside, Steer, since his calfhood, got to understand

"Farmers a many in the world so wide Were ready with a handful just as choice Or choicer—maize and cummin, treats untried.

"Shall I wed wife, and all my days rejoice
I gained the peacock? 'Las me, round I look,
And lo—'With me thou wouldst have blamed no voice

"'Like hers that daily deafens like a rook:

I am the phœnix!'—'I, the lark, the dove,
—The owl,' for aught knows he who blindly took

"Peacock for partner, while the vale, the grove, The plain held bird-mates in abundance. There! Youth, try fresh capture! Age has found out Love

"Long ago. War seems better worth man's care. But leave me! Disappointment finds a balm Haply in slumber." "This first step o' the stair "To knowledge fails me, but the victor's palm Lies on the next to tempt him overleap A stumbling-block. Experienced, gather calm,

"Thou excellence of Judah, cured by sleep Which ushers in the Warrior, to replace The Lover! At due season I shall reap

"Fruit of my planting!" So, with lengthened face, Departed Tsaddik: and three moons more waxed And waned, and not until the Summer-space

Waned likewise, any second visit taxed
The Rabbi's patience. But at three months' end,
Behold, supine beneath a rock, relaxed

The sage lay musing till the noon should spend Its ardour. Up comes Tsaddik, who but he, With "Master, may I warn thee, nor offend,

"That time comes round again? We look to see Sprout from the old branch—not the youngling twig-But fruit of sycamine: deliver me, "To share among my fellows, some plump fig, Juicy as seedy! That same man of war, Who, with a scantling of his store, made big

"Thy starveling nature, caused thee, safe from scar, To share his gains by long acquaintanceship With bump and bruise and all the knocks that are

"Of battle dowry,—he bids loose thy lip, Explain the good of battle! Since thou know'st Let us know likewise! Fast the moments slip,

"More need that we improve them!"—"Ay, we boast, We warriors in our youth, that with the sword Man goes the swiftliest to the uttermost—

Takes the straight way thro' lands yet unexplored To absolute Right and Good,—may so obtain God's glory and man's weal too long ignored,

"Too late attained by preachments all in vain— The passive process. Knots get tangled worse By toying with: does cut cord close again?

- "Moreover there is blessing in the curse Peace-praisers call war. What so sure evolves -All the capacities of soul, proves nurse
- "Of that self-sacrifice in men which solves The riddle— Wherein differs Man from beast? Foxes boast cleverness and courage wolves:
- "Nowhere but in mankind is found the least Touch of an impulse 'To our fellows—good I' the highest!—not diminished but increased
- "'By the condition plainly understood
 —Such good shall be attained at price of hurt
 I' the highest to ourselves!' Fine sparks, that brood
- "Confusedly in Man, 't is war bids spurt Forth into flame: as fares the meteor-mass, Whereof no particle but holds inert
- "Some seed of light and heat, however crass The enclosure, yet avails not to discharge Its radiant birth before there come to pass

- "Some push external,—strong to set at large
 Those dormant fire-seeds, whirl them in a trice Through heaven and light up earth from marge to marge:
- "Since force by motion makes—what erst was ice— Crash into fervency and so expire, Because some Djinn has hit on a device
- "For proving the full prettiness of fire!

 Ay, thus we prattle—young: but old—why, first,

 Where 's that same Right and Good—(the wise inquire)—
- "So absolute, it warrants the outburst
 Of blood, tears, all war's woeful consequence,
 That comes of the fine flaring? Which plague cursed
- "The more your benefited Man—offence, Or what suppressed the offender? Say it did—Show us the evil cured by violence,
- "Submission cures not also! Lift the lid From the maturing crucible, we find Its slow sure coaxing-out of virtue hid

- "In that same meteor-mass, hath uncombined Those particles and, yielding for result Gold, not mere flame, by so much leaves behind
- "The heroic product. E'en the simple cult Of Edom's children wisely bids them turn Cheek to the smiter with 'Sic Jesus vult.'
- "Say there's a tyrant by whose death we earn Freedom, and justify a war to wage: Good!—were we only able to discern
- "Exactly how to reach and catch and cage Him only and no innocent beside! Whereas the folk whereon war wreaks its rage
- "—How shared they his ill-doing? Far and wide The victims of our warfare strew the plain, Ten thousand dead, whereof not one but died
- "In faith that vassals owed their suzerain Life: therefore each paid tribute,—honest soul,— To that same Right and Good ourselves are fain

"To call exclusively our end. From bole (Since ye accept in me a sycamine)
Pluck, eat, digest a fable—yea, the sole

"Fig I afford you! 'Dost thou dwarf my vine?' (So did a certain husbandman address
The tree which faced his field), 'Receive condign

"'Punishment, prompt removal by the stress Of axe I forthwith lay unto thy root!' Long did he hack and hew, the root no less

"As long defied him, for its tough strings shoot As deep down as the boughs above aspire: All that he did was—shake to the tree's foot

"Leafage and fruitage, things we most require For shadow and refreshment: which good deed Thoroughly done, behold the axe-haft tires

"His hand, and he desisting leaves unfreed
The vine he hacked and hewed for. Comes a frost,
One natural night's work, and there 's little need

"Of hacking, hewing: lo, the tree's a ghost! Perished it starves, black death from topmost bough To farthest-reaching fibre! Shall I boast

"My rough work,—warfare,—helped more? Loving, now—

That, by comparison, seems wiser, since The loving fool was able to avow

"He could effect his purpose, just evince Love's willingness,—once 'ware of what she lacked, His loved one,—to go work for that, nor wince

"At self-expenditure: he neither hacked Nor hewed, but when the lady of his field Required defence because the sun attacked,

"He, failing to obtain a fitter shield, Would interpose his body, and so blaze, Blest in the burning. Ah, were mine to wield

"The intellectual weapon—poet-lays,—
How preferably had I sung one song
Which . . . but my sadness sinks me: go your ways!

- "On earth, not here! 'T is there we learn,—there prove

Our parts upon the stuff we needs must spoil, Striving at mastery, there bend above

"The spoiled clay potsherds, many a year of toil Attests the potter tried his hand upon, Till sudden he arose, wiped free from soil

"His hand cried 'So much for attempt—anon Performance! Taught to mould the living vase, What matter the cracked pitchers dead and gone?"

"Could I impart and could thy mind embrace The secret, Tsaddik!" "Secret none to me!" Quoth Tsaddik, as the glory on the face

Of Jochanan was quenched. "The truth I see, Of what that excellence of Judah wrote, Doughty Halaphta. This a case must be

"Wherein, though the last breath have passed the throat,

"" Waves brackish, in a mixture, sweet with brine, That's neither sea nor river but a taste Of both—so meet the earthly and divine

"'And each is either.' Thus I hold him graced— Dying on earth, half inside and half out; Wholly in heaven, who knows? My mind embraced

"Thy secret, Jochanan, how dare I doubt?
Follow thy Ruach, let earth, all it can,
Keep of the leavings!" Thus was brought about

The sepulture of Rabbi Jochanan: Thou hast him,—sinner-saint, live-dead, boy-man,— Schiphaz, on Bendimir, in Farzistan!
